(BULLETIN)
(International News Service)

TOPEKA, Kan., Nov. 4.—Governor Alfred M. Landon early today made public a telegram he had sent during the night to President Roosevelt congratulating him on his re-election.

Shortly after 12:30 a. m. (C. S. T.) Governor Landon made public the following telegram he sent to the President:

"The nation has spoken. Every American will accept the verdict and work for the common cause for the good of our country. That is the spirit of democracy. You have my sincere congratulations."

Addressed to "The President, Hyde Park, N. Y.," the telegram was signed, "Alf M. Landon".

County Gives Majority Vote To Democrats

Roosevelt Lead Is Less Than Candidates For State Offices, Vote Shows

CITY VOTE FOR ROOSEVELT HEAVY

Following the example of other counties, Lawrence county went for Roosevelt and Garner in the election on Tuesday, November 3. However the difference between the Republican and Democratic vote in the county will not be as wide in the presidential election as it will be in other offices.

Out of 60 precincts in the 92 of the county, Governor Alfred M. Landon polled 15,496 and President Franklin D. Roosevelt 16,989. Of this vote Roosevelt polled 10,555 in 33 of the 35 city precincts, and Landon polled 6,653. Complete returns will show Roosevelt carrying the city by approximately 4,500 votes.

Pinola Trails

Frank L. Pinola, Republican candidate for state treasurer made a better showing in the city than did Landon but made a worse showing in the county. In 31 city precincts Pinola polled 6,720 as against 8,677 for F. Clair Ross of Butler county. In 52 precincts out of the 92 in the county Pinola polled 10,865 as against 14,020 for Ross.

For auditor-general, E. Arthur Sweeny of Greensburg carried the same vote approximately as his running mate, Mr. Pinola. In the 31 city precincts Sweeny polled 6,717 votes as against 8,676 for Warren R. Roberts of Northampton county. In the 52 precincts of the county out of the 92 Roberts polled 13,971 and Eweeny polled 10,760.

Kelso Leading For Legislature

Democratic Candidate Appears To Have Been Renamed In County

While the re-election of James B Kelso, Democrat, to the General Assembly from the second district seems likely, the face of the returns from the second district are as yet insufficiently complete to say definitely that he has won.

With 22 precincts reported out of the 57 in the county outside the city, Mr. Kelso has 5,350 votes as against 4,077 for his Republican opponent, W. Sharp Fullerton. These totals include all of Ellwood City, which gave Mr. Kelso a heavy lead. Of the precincts that are missing, many of them are thought to be favorable to Mr. Fullerton.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 4.—President Roosevelt was sweeping California completely in the ballot counting today.

Farley Happy Over Victory

IS JUBILANT AS PRESIDENT WINS

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—"The American people are to be congratulated on the result of today's election." James Farley, chairman of the Democratic National Committee declared at a press conference shortly after 11 o'clock last night when he was assured that President Roosevelt had been elected by an overwhelming majority.

Farley said he would not issue a formal statement until after President Roosevelt had received word from Governor Alfred M. Landon. Up to this hour, the president had received no communication from the Republican presidential candidate.

Farley's statement follows:

"Tonight's victory is not a partisan triumph. Though the election was won under the Democratic banner, the size of the majorities, both the popular and the electoral college majority, makes it very plain that it was principle and not party that was sustained in today's voting.

"After today I do not think that anybody will doubt the spirit of liberalism that actuated our citizens. The result is no surprise. It was unthinkable that a President whose wisdom and whose policies, whose courage and steadfastness of purpose had lifted the nation out of

Preston Named To Legislature

Democratic Candidate Is Elected In City Of New Castle

Carmi Glover Preston, of Highland avenue, New Castle, a Democrat, was elected to the General Assembly from New Castle in the election on Tuesday, leading his Republican opponent, T. Wilbert McCullough by about 2,500 majority in 34 of the 35 city precincts. With only the first precinct of the fifth ward missing as this edition goes to press, Preston has 9,857 votes and Mr. McCullough 7,562. The missing precinct will add hundreds to Preston's majority if the vote for president is any criterion, Landon getting only 75 to Roosevelt's 718, in the first of the fifth.

Preston rode along with the Roosevelt sweep and in the fifth, seventh and eighth wards piled up heavy majorities. Mr. McCullough led the Republican ticket in the city and polled a splendid vote but far from enough to win.

Mr. Preston is the youngest man to be elected to the General Assembly from this district in some years. He is unmarried and some years ago was a backfield star for the New Castle high school football team. He will succeed William J. Eroe, Jr., who was elected to the state senate on Tuesday.

Roosevelt Wins Allegheny County

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 4.—Latest returns from Allegheny county at 1:10 a. m. this morning showed President Roosevelt with a vote just a little better than double that for Governor Landon, his Republican rival.

Landon: 118,638.

Eroe Wins For State Senate

Assemblyman William J. Eroe, Jr., of Berger Place, New Castle, will be the next state senator from the 47th senatorial district which is composed of Lawrence and Beaver counties. In the election held Tuesday, November 3, Mr. Eroe carried his home county of Lawrence, and the information from Beaver county is to the effect that Eroe has been carried along on the Roosevelt landslide there.

In 52 precincts of Lawrence county out of 92 Eroe polled 14,227 votes as against 10,558 for the incumbent, Senator Alonzo S. Batchelor. In the city of New Castle, 31 precincts give Eroe 8,811 votes as against 6,545 for Batchelor.

Mr. Eroe served in the House of Representatives in the sessions of 1933 and 1935. He is the third Lawrence county man to be elected to the state senate in over 40 years. The two men who previously represented this district from this county were Senator E. I. Phillips and Senator George T. Weingartner.

Massachusetts Carried By FDR

(International News Service)

BOSTON, Nov. 4. — Roosevelt's plurality in Massachusetts over Landon will mount to 95,000, according to estimates early today.

In 1932 the President carried the Bay State by 65,000.

The estimates were made on the basis of latest returns, showing a cross section of the vote including Boston and other cities. One estimate was Roosevelt 880,000 and Landon 795,000.

Returns tabulated from 502 out of 1,765 precincts in the state gave:

Roosevelt 217,356, Landon 198,752, Lemke 27,227.

In Boston 142 out of 388 precincts gave:

Roosevelt 73,132, Landon 27,709, and Lemke 8,919.

Eckert Wins For Congress

Partial Returns Indicate His Re-Election As District Congressman

BUTLER COUNTY VOTE NEAR EVEN

From the face of incomplete returns in Lawrence, Beaver and Butler counties, there seems no doubt that Charles R. Eckert has been re-elected to Congress from the 26th dsitrict over Attorney Orville Brown of New Castle, the Republican candidate.

In 52 precincts out of 92 in Lawrence county Mr. Eckert polled 13,971 votes as against 11,179 for Mr. Brown. In the city of New Castle Eckert polled 8,090 votes in 31 precincts as agains 6,960 for Mr. Brown.

Fragmentary returns from Beaver county are to the effect that Aliquippa, Ambridge and Midland went Democratic by tremendous majorities and that Beaver county will show about 8,000 majority for Eckert. Reports from Butler county in 21 out of 85 precincts show Brown and Eckert running almost even, with the edge in favor of Mr. Brown.

The total vote for the three counties will probably show Eckert a winner by a wide margin. Mr. Eckert has represented the 26th district in Congress for the past two years. He is an attorney and resides in Beaver.

Victory Demonstration At President's Home

(International News Service)

HYDE PARK, N. Y., Nov. 4.—Inhaling clouds of smoke from red and white flares, and enjoying the situation hugely, President Roosevelt, late Tuesday evening stood on the front steps of his family home and greeted a large "victory" demonstration staged by his neighbors.

"The returns aren't all in, and by no means complete," he told his cheering fellow townsmen, "but it looks as if we are going to have one of the largest sweeps in the history of the United States.

"It seems to have gone into every single section of the country—not only the south, but the west, the Pacific coast, the central states and New England.

"I thank you very much for this demonstration. I hope in the next four years, with the worst of the emergency over, I can spend more time in Hyde Park."

Automobile after automobile poured into the driveway of the Roosevelt home as it became apparent he had been re-elected by another landslide. The cars were parked all over the expanse of ground leading up to the house.

Mr. Roosevelt appeared with his wife, mother, sons and daughter.

VOTE RESULT SEEN AS U. S. APPROVAL OF NEW DEAL PLANS

By GEORGE R. HOLMES
I. N. S. Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—President Roosevelt rode the crest of the greatest vote in history today to triumphant re-election.

The sweep of his victory extended to every section of the United States—north, east, south and west—and by the time the complete returns are tabulated it probably will be seen that its proportions exceed even his record-breaking victory of four years ago when he defeated Herbert Hoover by 472 votes to 59 in the electoral college and by 7,000,000 popular votes.

The New Deal was the issue and the New Deal received a smashing endorsement at the hands of the great majority of the 45,000,000 who went to the polls.

It will take the complete tabulations to determine exactly what Mr. Roosevelt's electoral aggregate will be but on the basis of returns early this morning it appeared it may be more than 500 out of the possible 531.

The Republican vote for Gov. Alfred M. Landon of Kansas, his Republican opponent, everywhere failed to come up to Republican hopes and expectations, while the third (Union) party vote of Congressman W. Lemke and Father Coughlin proved a negligible and unimportant factor.

Two States Stand Fast

At an early hour this morning, Gov. Landon was trailing President Roosevelt even in his own Kansas, and the Democrats were cockily confident of adding those 9 electoral votes to the swelling Roosevelt total. In fact, it appeared at this hour that Jim Farley might not be far wrong in his prediction that Landon would carry only two states —Maine and Vermont.

Those two rock-ribbed Republican states stood fast against the onrushing Democratic tide which engulfed nearly all else. There were several states still doubtful this morning, but not enough to make any appreciable difference.

The carefully erected structure of Republican hopes started tumbling soon after the polls closed. From the outset Gov. Landon's chances for

Jarrett Wins Congress Seat

Defeats Driscoll In 20th District—Democrats Gain In State Delegation

By FREDERICK N. POLANGIN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

HARRISBURG, Nov. 4.—Pennsylvania's delegation of 34 congressmen will probably remain predominately Democratic—even more so than ever before—it appeared early today.

The present delegation consisted of 23 Democrats and 11 Republicans, but early returns indicated at least 25, many of them incumbents, are assured of election, with one county still not accounted for.

The Republicans, according to early returns, picked up eight seats, one of them that of Dennis J. Driscoll. Democratic incumbent, who was running far behinnd Benjamin Jarrett, Farrell Republican, in the 20th district.

Driscoll exposed the sensational "fake" telegram fiasco during the lobby investigation into the Wheeler-Reyburn Utility Holding Bill

Patrick J. Boland, Scranton Democrat, who is slated to advance from whip to floor leader, had an easy time of it overcoming strong Coughlin and Townsend opposition, carrying the 11th district by some 20,000 votes.

State Victory Makes History

Pennsylvania Goes For Democratic President First Time In 80 Years

BUCHANAN LAST TO CARRY STATE

By J. WILLIAM THEIS
International News Service Staff Correspondent

HARRISBURG, Nov. 4.—Political history paralleling that of the Democratic gubernatorial sweep in 1934 was made in Pennsylvania as incomplete returns last night gave President Roosevelt an approximate lead of 200,000 over Gov. Alfred M Landon.

The extent of the Roosevelt vote tide was indicated when Edwin R. Cox, Republican Philadelphia city chairman, conceded traditionally Republican Philadelphia to the Democrats.

Rural counties, mostly in agricultural central Pennsylvania, remained the sole hope of anything like an "old-time" Republican vote.

With more than one-fourth of the state's 8,012 precincts reported, even such Republican strongholds as Lancaster and Montgomery counties were adding to the Roosevelt plurality.

President Roosevelt's winning of Pennsylvania's 36 electoral votes would make election history that had not been recorded in the Keystone state in 80 years. The state last gave its majority to a Democratic presidential candidate in 1856, when it supported James Buchanan, a native son.

Democratic candidates for state fiscal offices now held by two Republicans rode ahead with leads of roughly 50,000, while gains were indicated for state legislative posts.

winning hinged upon the New England states, New York, Pennsylvania and the industrial Mid-West states, going westward to the Mississippi, plus enough votes west of the river to make up an electoral total of 266.

First to Crumble

New England was first to crumble. There, in territory considered strongly Republican, President Roosevelt smashed through the barriers and took Conecticut early in the evening. Four years ago Herbert Hoover carried Connecticut by 7,000. Today, President Roosevelt had won it by upward of 100,000. After trailing Gov. Landon in Massachusetts and Rhode Island in the early returns, the President overcame these leads and early today appeared certain to carry them both.

The Landon vote in upstate New York failed utterly to come up to Republican hopes, and when the congested borough of Greater New York began rolling up a record-breaking plurality in the city, it was all off. Philadelphia and Pittsburgh furnished large Roosevelt majorities that apparently have put Pennsylvania into the Democratic column for the first time in nearly a century.

Ohio and Indiana quickly wooed the Roosevelt trend, as did Illinois, where the expected Landon pluralities downstate failed to materialize. The Kelly-Nash Democratic machine in Cook county performed according to the leaders' promises and swept Illinois into the Roosevelt column by what probably will turn out to be a greater margin than four years ago.

May Be Close in Two States

As the tide rolled westward from Illinois it appeared there would be close contests in both Iowa and Kansas, with the outcome still uncertain.

Minnesota and Wisconsin, however, recorded substantial majorities for Mr. Roosevelt.

The Rocky mountain states displayed a Democratic trend which had been anticipated, and the Pacific coast states as well.

The border states such as Oklahoma, Missouri, West Virginia, Maryland and Kentucky, had always been considered safely Democratic and they lived up to and in some cases exceeded expectations. The Democratic South, of course, was "in the bag" from the start.

Gov. Landon and his campaign manager, John D. M. Hamilton, went to bed early without conceding Mr. Roosevelt's victory. Hamilton, in fact, declared he was "not surprised at the early trend for Mr. Roosevelt" and refused to concede anything.

At almost the same moment Hamilton was making this statement, Jim Farley, here in New York, was assuring reporters that all he would give the Republicans was Maine and Vermont, and President Roosevelt was participating in a victory celebration on his front porch along the Hudson.

the depths of the depression and started it to a prosperity that was the envy of all the world should not have been sustained and applauded by the people whose economic salvation was affected through his captaincy of the forces of government.

"We may now look forward to four years of uninterrupted effort to accomplish the completion of economic recovery, of industrial welfare, and of the permanent establishment of real liberty in the United States.

"I have an idea that the people who so viciously assailed the President during the campaign, who called him a communist, a would-be dictator, an enemy of business, are now rather ashamed of the bitterness they brought into the campaign. For myself, I hope these attacks will be forgotten. I am sure that the Presdient entertains no bitterness even to those who in the fury of political struggle so grossly assailed him. He realizes, I feel justified in stating, that he is more than ever the President of all the people, for all the people contributed to the splendid endorsement he has received.

"No American need have any fear of the future. Franklin D. Roosevelt's mission is to see that all of us have a square deal. No individual and no corporation that is on the level with the people has any cause to dread Mr. Roosevelt's second term. Anything to the contrary that was voiced in the fury of the campaign with the idea of frightening the people away from their President was absurd when it was spoken or written, and is more absurd today I know that all who hear these words will join me in the hope that the scars of this great political battle will soon be healed. Nobody on our side of the fence has any thought or reprisal or oppression.

"With the united people working with him, the President of the United States will complete the job of making this a happier, richer, freer country than it was before

"Naturally the result of the election is a source of deep satisfaction, but I think all of us realize that it was less a triumph for Roosevelt and Garner than it was for the people of our country. It is to their clearness of vision, their perception of the rights and wrongs that were the issues, that America is now set on a course that will not only clear up the depression distress, but will make such miseries impossible in the future."

Driscoll Leads In Mercer County

MERCER, Pa., Nov. 4.—With 64 precincts out of 97 heard from in Mercer county, Congressman Dennis Driscoll of St. Marys holds a slight lead over Attorney Benjamin Jarrett of Farrell. Driscoll has 14,733 votes and Jarrett 13,078. The precincts yet to hear from are rural.

Landon has 12,715 votes in the same precincts and Roosevelt 16,063. For general assembly Thomas and Smith Democrats are leading. Thomas has 15,264, Smith 14,385. Both are Democrats. Thomas Lyons has 13,290 and Sport Simons 12,559. They are Republicans.

More Democrats Named To Congress In Pennsylvania

Largest Gain Made In Dauphin County With Four Democrats Elected

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Nov. 4.—The Democratic sweep in Pennsylvania today apparently carried an increased margin of control for that party in the House of Representatives for the 1937 session of the general assembly.

Partial and incomplete returns showed that the Democrats captured seven seats now held by Republican incumbents and lost only two.

The largest gain was in Dauphin county where four Democrats were elected. The Dauphin county delegation has been solidly GOP for years.

A gain of two for the Democrats was shown in Lackawanna county. The county's delegation for the next session will consist of five Democrats and one Republican. Two years ago the county elected three Democrats and three Republicans.

The Democrats gained a seat in Lycoming county.

On the basis of partial returns the Republicans captured seats in the House now held by Democrats in Cameron and Clarion counties.

Cox Concedes Philadelphia To Democrats

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 4.—Edwin R. Cox, chairman of the Philadelphia Republican city committee, shortly before 11 o'clock Tuesday night conceded this long-time arch-Republican city to the Democrats.

In a statement, he said:

"The indications are that Philadelphia has gone New Deal by a substantial majority. The people have spoken.

"The Republican party will continue to fight for the preservation of American principles of government and we will re-build from the ashes of a destroyed democracy a greater party to combat the socialistic and communistic forces that have the government of free people by the throat."

Jubilation At Roosevelt Home

(International News Service)

HYDE PARK, N. Y., Nov. 4.—Confidence turned to jubilation in President Roosevelt's family home on the Hudson Tuesday night as return after return indicated he was to be re-elected by a vote of landslide proportions.

Hyde Park Democrats, even before the votes were counted in the president's home town, were planning a torchlight parade to the Roosevelt estate. Local leaders insisted that Hyde Park finally was going to give the president a majority, with only distict number 1, home of Ogden Mills, going Republican out of the four in the township.

Ninth Precinct Sets Speed Mark

Members of the election board in the ninth precinct of the second ward set a record for speed in completing returns Tuesday night. Woman's Club Hears Lake Erie College Professor

Rex. M. Johnson, professor of Economics and Sociology at Lake Erie college, addressed the Woman's club at its bi-monthly meeting Monday afternoon in Highland U. P. church.

His subject, "The Status of Women Under Communism and Fascism was developed in an instructive and unbiased manner. Said Professor Johnson, "Our country is going through a period of transition." "This trend began approximately 15 years ago and will probably continue for another 15 or 20 years. It is well for women to study the status of their sisters under different forms of government, that they may better cope with the problems which will effect their own positions."

"Under Communism, woman's position tends towards equality with men. Functions of the home become socialized, freeing women from their traditional responsibilities and making possible their entrance into the fields of industry, trade, agriculture and education."

"They are economically independent, but must compete with men on the same footing. The emphasis is on the individual, rather than on the home."

"In contrast," stated the speaker, "the Fascistic form of government places the emphasis on the home and woman's place within its four walls. The importance to the state of the raising of large families is stressed. Women are excluded from many lines of work."

"Education for women has become less academic. They are taught to supplement men in a man's state."

Professor Johnson was introduced by Mrs. James L. Vogan, chairman of the Department of Education, which was responsible for Monday's program. Hostesses were Mrs. D. L. Ferguson and Mrs. W. D. Jones.

Mrs. Harry L. Gormley, club president, conducted the business meeting which was opened with a salute to the flag led by three Girl Scouts, Carol Henderson, Nancy Stitzinger and Dorothy Burton.

HUNTING AS A SPORT

IT IS interesting to learn that more than 13,000,000 persons in this country are sufficiently interested to spend nearly $750,000,000 annually for hunting and fishing in the United States.

Of this number the great majority are hunters. The vanguard of this army has already taken to the woods and the brush in search of game, with the main body getting ready for the November shooting.

The one unfortunate side of this popular autumn open-air recreation is the casualty list that invariably attends it. Bullets and shotgun charges find human targets far too frequently for the peace of mind of those who hunt and those who remain at home.

If hunting were at all times considered purely a sport, there is every probability that we would not have such a long list of killed and wounded. But there has developed on the part of many hunters an unholy affection for a filled game bag. Too many are concerned with the size of the kill instead of the sport they enjoy. This leads to much promiscuous firing. The growing inclination is to shoot first and look afterward. The result is too many human targets.

Hunting is the sport of red-blooded men. And if it is always considered a sport the dangers surrounding it will be minimized. So forget the size of the kill and enjoy the trip as true sportsmen do in these autumn days.

PARENTS NEED TEACHING

If human beings would make use of the knowledge available to them in rearing their young, a race of giants, physically and mentally, might be produced within a few generations. That is an opinion recently expressed by two of the nation's leading baby specialists.

Recent achievements of science in isolating vitamins and determining their action in preventing disease should result in better general health, better teeth and general freedom from what are called degenerative diseases, says Dr. Russell Hippensteel, nutrition specialist. The late Dr. A. M. Mendenhall, of Indiana University, concurred in this opinion, but made this important comment: "I fear there are relatively few babies receiving all that is available in proper baby care."

What seems most to be needed is better distribution of the surplus of good food and wider teaching of knowledge concerning the duties and responsibilities of parenthood.

MORE ABUNDANT LIFE

All sorts of news comes from Washington and some of it is good. In particular there's an item about holiday turkeys. It tells an anxious nation that 20,000,000 birds are on hand to carry us through from Thanksgiving to New Year's Day. Last year there were only 15,000,000. This means, of course, that the well-known festive board will be required to bear up under the added burden of 5,000,000 extra turkeys.

Come what may in the way of election results, wars, weather and taxes, the prospect is filled with bright promise, with 20,000,000 turkeys available for consumption, even though the birds are reported as being somewhat younger and lighter than a year ago. Even now, a contemplation of the future provides reason for delightful anticipation.

A turkey in the pan, just beginning to assume a golden brown, his breast abulge with chestnut dressing and his shanks standing sentinel on either side, the aroma floating through the house, and finally the great moment when the bird, done to a turn, takes his place on the table for the fulfillment of his destiny.

This, ladies and gentlemen, boys and girls, is a prospect to warm the heart. It is something to look forward to as the leaves fall, the sun ascends higher in the heavens and the nights grow long and the days cold.

SUBSIDIZED AIRSHIPS

It may be said that this year's trans-Atlantic flights of the German airship, the Hindenburg, were in the nature of experiments and demonstrations. They have also been strong arguments in favor of commercial airship transportation.

Unless international agreements can be made on a scheduled and regular airship service between the United States and Europe there may not be many more visits by the Hindenburg. Only by special and temporary permit has the great airship been allowed to land here and use the facilities of Lakehurst.

A project for creating a German-American zeppelin service has been worked out in detail and discussed between Daniel C. Roper, secretary of commerce, and Dr. Hugo Eckener, the world's foremost authority on airship construction and operation. Most interesting are the difficulties which lie in the way of its realization. There must be treaties drawn, at a time when treaties are not easily made between this country and the nations of Europe. Congress must agree to pay part of the cost of constructing two American airships and a substantial subsidy on their operation. This involves the extension of the recent Merchant Marine Act to cover lighter-than-air craft engaged in foreign commence.

Granted that these things can be done, it is said that American capital is ready to back a regular airship service to Europe, with weekly sailings from both sides of the Atlantic. But in the meantime powerful airplane interests are bidding for the same business. The successful flights of the Hindenburg have shown that airships can carry passengers, freight and mail over the ocean, but it may be some time before they are doing so to any considerable commercial extent.

Hallowe'en Is Old.
The Souls Of Oysters.
Polly Has A Tombstone.
Germany's Good Cannon.
By ARTHUR BRISBANE

YOU CELEBRATED an old festival, if you bobbed for apples or looked in the glass to see your future husband, last Saturday. Hallowe'en, which Christians call "All Saints' Day," is older by many centuries than Christianity.

It is one of the festivals carried over from paganism, because primitive peoples converted to a new religion still clung to their old celebrations and pleasures.

AT THIS SEASON the Druids lighted fires to please their sun-god, who had given the good harvest. They believed that Saman, "Lord of Death" on Halloween called together the wicked souls, condemned during the past year, and locked them up in bodies of animals.

Ghosts and witches were unusually plentiful at Halloween; the numerous bonfires were perhaps lighted to frighten them away.

Into the ashes of such fires the Scotch and Welsh threw small stones, one for every person present. If a stone was missing next morning, he or she who had thrown it in would not live to see another Halloween.

MR. KOKICHI MIKIMOTO, able Japanese gentleman, once a peddler of noodles, is now gigantically rich, thanks to his oyster pearl idea. He makes real pearls by forcing the oyster to work at pearl production.

Instead of diving for oysters, hoping to find one with a pearl in it, he puts little, irritating grains of sand inside the shells of millions of oysters and each oyster proceeds to deposit the pearly substance on the sand to escape its irritating, scratching.

THESE PEARLS are "real," although experts can tell the difference. They annoy jewelers and have hurt the value of the other accidental pearls but they make it unnecessary for the unfortunate pearl diver to "go all naked to the hungry sharks," as the poet has it.

Mr. Mikimoto has been obliged to kill hundreds of millions of oysters, which is serious; his Buddhist religion teaches that each has its little separate soul—in fact the soul of his great-grandmother might have resided in one of the oysters.

Impelled by sense of justice and a desire not to be hated by so many millions of oyster souls, the pearl king last week employed priests of the Buddhist Jodo sect to hold elaborate memorial services in memory of all those oysters, thus allaying their anger at being butchered so cruelly, and comforting them.

After that, methodical Mr. Mikimoto held an elaborate rehearsal of his own funeral, forty-two relatives attending, as our "upper classes" hold wedding rehearsals.

YOU MAY smile at the idea of oysters having souls, but some 10-inch Long Lynhaven female oyster might ask:

"Why should you have a soul and not I? Do I not live, eat, breathe? What are you, but a two-legged microbe, living on a grain of sand called the earth.

"Are you aware that I produce not mere quintuplets, but millions of young oysters every year? How do you know that the Ruler of the universe confers souls only on creatures like you that butcher each other in war, and practice birth control?"

THE TORONTO "birth derby" ends in a sextuple tie, six mothers having each produced nine babies in ten years. They, presumably, will divide the half million dollars left by a "philanthropist" to the mother having the greatest number of children in ten years following his death.

THE END of the race was sad; two mothers praying for a last minute "miracle" of premature birth were disappointed, and Blanche Timleck, 3 months old, needed by her mother in the contest, died just before the race ended, and was buried on the last day of the competi-

Dear Miss Markel: I am a married women working in an office. Please set me straight on the following: (1) When I answer the telephone should I say "Hello" or must I say "Smith Trading Company?" (2) When I wish to announce myself over the telephone should I say: "This is Mrs. Blank" or "Jane Blank?" J. B.

Answer—(1) Always mention the name of the company when you answer the telephone. "Hello" gives your unseen listener no inkling whatever as to who is speaking. He is therefore forced to ask questions, which nuisance may be spared him if you use tact and intelligence when first answering the telephone. Here is the procedure giving the most efficient results: When you take up the receiver to answer say: "Smith Trading Company." Voice on the other end: "Mr. Jones calling Mr. Smith." The call is then put through to Mr. Smith, thus saving the time and patience of every one concerned. (2) Announce yourself: "Mrs. Blank speaking"; not "Jane Blank."

Answer — It would be very thoughtful and hospitable of you should you invite this girl to stay at your home during her visit. She and her brother would, doubtless, appreciate this gesture.

To a lackey who came to announce dinner, at a critical point in a game of cards, the fourth Earl of Sandwich replied that he would not come to the table, but desired a slice of cold beef spread with mustard to be placed between two slices of bread, and served to him at the game table. Dinner Earl of Sandwich style got to be a byword in London. In so casual a manner was a popular way of eating named.

It's True—You're wrong if you believe that William Cullen Bryant (whose birthday this is) wrote the classic Thantopsis we know today while he was in his teens. It is one of the titles of the Duke of Buccleuth, father-in-law of the royal Duke of Gloucester, into whose family it went in 1810 with the death of the 4th Duke of Queensberry. At the same time the marquessate descended to another branch, by which it is held today.

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

SIMPLIFYING A LANGUAGE

The Chinese people are the most illiterate people on the face of the globe. About fifteen years ago there were only about three per cent of the Chinese people who could read and write the Chinese language. Literacy was confined mostly to the rich and politically powerful nationals.

During the World War there were about 300,000 Chinese coolies brought into France to clean up back of the military lines, build railroads, repair roads and to otherwise do the work of the common laborer. At that time Y. C. James Yen, a graduate of Yale and familiarly known to his fellow Yalensians as "Jimmy" Yen was working in Y. M. C. A. activities over Seas and he conceived the brilliant idea of educating these coolies, and was "Jimmy thunderstruck when he found that not one of the coolies could read or write his language?

There were and still are some 46,000 Chinese characters used by the educated Chinese to express their thoughts. "Jimmy" at once had another idea: developing a Chinese alphabet, lessen the characters and simplify the language.

He was met with much opposition by the learned Chinese who thought that any such innovation would destroy the value of their work. "Jimmy" was insistent, however, and he has now produced an alphabet of twelve hundred characters. He has enthused his fellow workers and they have established schools in China, which are attended daily and nightly by thousands of Chinese. In a few short years by his and his associates' work, there are now nearly ten per cent of the Chinese people who can read and write. Even the aristocratic literati of China are converted to the idea.

This is only a part of the "New China," about which so much is said.

HOW DO YOU VOTE?

Sometimes I find it is quite a task
And I fancy so do you
To answer the questions that small boys ask
Of all that they hear and view;
But here is one that he fired at me
In his curious, plantive note.
A simple question it seems to be:
"What do you do to vote?"

"Oh, voting is easy," to him I said.
"There isn't so much to do.
The little square at the column head
I mark with a pencil blue.
Then I fold the ballot and pass it in.
At night it will counted be,
And the man receiving the most will win."
"Is that really all?" said he.

There was the sticker! "No, no," said I.
"Before ever that mark I make
And the chance to alter it hurries by,
There is serious thought to take.
I must think of the meaning of liberty,
Lest the Stars and Stripes may fall,
And vote not what may be best for me,
But what may be best for all."

WASHINGTON AT A GLANCE

Unemployment Reason Sought

No Real Explanation Seems Available For Idleness In Boom Period

BELIEVE NEW INDUSTRY NEEDED

Central Press
Washington Bureau
602 Times-Herald Bldg.

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Nov. 3.—Government reports show American business to be in pretty good shape again.

Some industries are operating on a scale equal to the boom period. A few industries even are doing a little better than that. Merchants are cheerful and predict a thumping holiday trade. Financial figures are favorable, too; less than 10 percent below 1929's.

Yet unemployment does not dwindle correspondingly, or anything like it.

LABOR-SAVING DEVICES?

Uncle Sam's economists try to explain this phenomenon in a fashion which does not explain it to me, at laest. I do not believe it explains it to them, either. I think that they simply have to be as explanatory as they can, and do their best.

Their version is the same old thing.

Labor-saving machinery and increased managerial efficiency have resulted in so greatly enhanced a productivity per worker that there is not as large a demand for workers as there used to be.

SOMETHING NEW NEEDED?

That is to say, according to this reasoning, if we put all our workers to work we would have over-production again, as in the 1920's, culminating in the bursting of the boom.

Arguing from this premise (that we already have all we want of everything we know anything about) there are economists who contend that we cannot take up the full slack of unemployment until some new thing is invented, with an appeal equal to that of the automobile, for our now idle workers to work on.

Air conditioning is mentioned as such a development, as it grows in popularity, which may turn the trick.

INABILITY TO BUY

Now, I do not have to be an economist to know that we were not over-producing during the boom period.

At the very height of the boom there were plenty of things I wanted that I could not afford to buy. I will make an affidavit that millions of other folk were in my fix; in fact everyone except a mere handful of millionaires.

More than we wanted was not what was the matter with us. It was inability to pay for what we did want, and would have bought if we had had the wherewithal.

It is no original idea that lack of purchasing power on the public's part, rather than over-production, caused the popping of the boom. Nevertheless, it is a theory which economists are falling back on to account for the continuance of unemployment despite an apparent improvement in business times.

INCOME TIED UP

And these new inventions, which we are supposed to need so badly to stimulate money's circulation?

They were numerous, leading up to the boom peak.

Moreover, they were expensive. The average individual could not pay cash for an auto, an electric refrigerator and washing machine and a dozen or so of other new-fangled gadgets; thus he was encouraged, almost coerced into buying them on the instalment plan.

It did not take him long at this rate to have his whole income tied up in instalment payments.

When he wanted to buy a much-needed suit of clothes, what had he left over?

Well, he could get that on the instalment plan, too.

CAN IN WORK?

However, such a budgetary system has its limits.

The boom exploded.

But today, with business reviving, an attempt is being made to revive the boom-time system also—among folk who are not actually on relief. Instalment salesmen call at my house every day. They may call on "reliefers" likewise, for all I know.

This perhaps is the economists' notion of renewed prosperity.

I hate to be a pessimist.

In heaven a three months old child can talk and understand as well as any one and you wonder what the angels thought when they heard that child's story of her mother's cruel disappointment.

A GREEN parrot, with red tipped wings, buried in a respectable grave, will have a granite headstone with "Here Lies Polly Coddington, 68 Years Old" engraved on it.

Exactly how old Polly was, no one knows. Born in Brazil, she was presented to the grandmother of Mrs. Joseph E. Hunt 68 years ago. Parrots, like eagles, elephants and other intelligent creatures that eat wisely, often pass one hundred.

This you may say for the late Polly Coddington, excellent conversationist: If she ever said anything foolish, or improper, somebody taught her to say it.

A higher race thinks up foolish things for itself.

IN 1913 THE LATE Lord Northcliffe, a really great British editor, told this writer and many others that France had the world's best artillery. The war confirmed his statement, in spite of "Big Bertha."

Now Gen. Laur Malmbery, a Finnish authority on artillery, says after visiting Germany:

"Germany has the best artillery I have ever seen."

Scandinavians know a good deal about war; they proved it by their wisdom in keeping out of the big one. They prove it also when they do fight.

Charles the Twelfth of Sweden, with a handful of men, walked through the huge armies of Peter the Great, who remarked, modestly:

"My brother Charles is teaching me about war."

And as for that other fighting Swede and great statesman King Gustavus Adolphus, he was a fighter to make our "big war" captains seem like babies playing soldiers.

FRANCE DECIDES that the line of powerful forts, that now separate her from Germany, the so-called "Maginot line" shall be extended along the frontier separating France from Belgium, as far as the sea.

Belgium canceled her understanding with France, the latter says, "friend or enemy," and classes Belgium among her enemies. Who would have expected that, in the big war days

YES, THIS FOOD ENDS YOUR CONSTIPATION

Look out for those half-sick days, when you feel listless, headachy, out-of-sorts. Your trouble may be constipation. The real cause of common constipation is too little "bulk" in meals. Your system misses its regular exercise.

Get this needed "bulk" in a delicious cereal: Kellogg's ALL-BRAN. Within the body, its "bulk" absorbs moisture, forms a soft mass, gently sponges out the system.

Why keep on feeling bad when you can feel good? Millions of people use ALL-BRAN. Tests prove it's safe and effective. ALL-BRAN is guaranteed. Try it a week. If not satisfactory, your money will be refunded by the Kellogg Company.

Two tablespoonfuls daily are usually sufficient. Serve as a cereal, with milk or cream, or cook into recipes. Remember, ALL-BRAN also supplies vitamin B and iron.

Certainly you'd rather eat a food than take pills and drugs. Buy ALL-BRAN at your grocer's. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

P. R. R. Veterans To Banquet Here

E. & A. Association Plans 16th Reunion For November 21

WILL TAKE PLACE AT THE CASTLETON

Members of the Erie & Ashtabula Division Veterans' Association of the Pennsylvania railroad, employes and officials whose company service has extended over 20 years or more, will gather for their 16th annual reunion dinner in The Castleton on Saturday, November 21.

The date for the annual banquet which brings together E. & A. old-timers from many towns was chosen at a meeting here of the reunion's general committee.

The committee plans a dinner at 12:30 that day with the traditional program following. Memorial services honoring departed veterans will feature. There will also be a special address by a speaker to be announced later.

The general committee on arrangements includes L. C. Gleason, chairman; R. E. O'Donnell, I. W. Tate, F. W. First, Charles J. Callahan, W. T. Weschler, R. W. Roberts and E. M. Fisher, all New Castle men.

Present officers of the organization are J. C. McMichael, Youngstown ticket agent, president; F. W. First, first vice president; I. W. Tate, second vice president; R. W. Roberts, third vice president; Charles J. Callahan, treasurer, and E. M. Fisher, acting secretary.

Letters of administration have been granted by the register and recorder as follows: estate of Helen Elizabeth Vogan to David L. Vogan; estate of Rev. Clarence A. Bratchie, late of this city, to Clara M. Bratchie. Estate of John Barto, late of Ellwood City, to Floyd G. Barto.

John Audia, trading as the Superior Sand and Supply company, has issued a writ of attachment against Charles Benson, in which the sheriff is directed to attach any money due the defendant from Frederick John Taylor or J. E. Richardson, in satisfaction of a claim of plaintiff.

In the case of The Thayer company against the County of Lawrence, in which the defendant asked to have an amended statement of claim stricken from the record, and which was argued before Judge George Rowley of Mercer county, the court made an order granting a rule on the plaintiff to show cause why the petition should not be granted. Rule is returnable on November 11.

Sixty-nine instruments of all kinds were placed on record at the register and recorder's office last week. Of this number 33 were deeds and 23 were mortgages. Nineteen of the mortgages were given to building and loan associations two to banks and two to individuals. By far the greatest number of mortgages being placed on record recently have been to building and loan associations.

Population of the county home has decreased during the past summer there being only about 130 inmates of the home at present. It is expected that the number will increase from now on until spring. During the summer months some of the inmates go to live with friends.

County commissioners will sit as a board of tax revision somewhat earlier this year, beginning on December 1, with Big Beaver, Hickory, Little Beaver and Mahoning townships. As the triennial assessments are being made this year, it is expected that the board will hear plenty of complaints.

Under the will of the late Susanna J. Houk of Ellwood City, which has been admitted to probate at the register and recorder's office, all of her estate is left to her children, C. E. Houk, J. M. Houk, Carrie May Houk Bookamer, J. B. Houk, C. B. Houk, D. G. Houk and Bertha Mary Houk Swipe. A bequest of $70 is made to the Slippery Rock Presbyterian church. J. M. Houk and D. G. Houk are named as executors.

Twenty-three properties were sold under the hammer by the sheriff yesterday, practically all of them being bought in by the plaintiffs in the suits. In the list were two Home Owners Loan foreclosures, bringing the list up to about a dozen in this county. In this connection it may be stated that throughout the country during the past three months Home Owners Loan Corporation foreclosures have averaged more than 8,000 a month, and during the first eight months of this year have aggregated 40,000. It looks as though the corporation will soon be in the real estate business on a huge scale.

According to reports of the State Highway Department, there were 251 bus accidents in Pennsylvania during September. The report for October will probably be out within a few days. In September bus accidents, four were killed and fifty-seven were injured. The number of accidents was forty-two more than during the same month a year ago.

AROUND CITY HALL

City Engineer Glenn R. Throop today certified to council completion of the paving of Englewood avenue between Highland avenue and Mercer street. He said the cost of material was $5,819.96 of which $5,563.76 is assessable. The city's share of cost was given as $256.20.

According to a ruling by William D. Cobau, city employes will not find it necessary to contribute part of their wages under the provisions of the Social Security law. However, firemen and police will receive pensions at a certain age. They contribute to those funds.

City council awarded contracts yesterday for the city's winter supply of coal. The coal must be delivered in the city bins. In years gone by the coal used by the city was furnished by different dealers. Under the new plan one firm will furnish two-inch screen and another firm provide the slack.

Councilman Joseph D. Alexander, in reply to a question put by Councilman J. Leon Fink during council Monday said he had not yet secured any gasoline bids. Alexander said the city can take no action to change the present system until January, November and December gas already having been arranged for. It was suggested by Mayor Charles E. McGrath a few weeks ago that instead of the city buying large lots and storing the gas in pump tanks, that a saving might be affected if trucks and motor cars were to get their fuel at different service stations.

Council has not taken any action to award a contract for approximately $300 worth of incandescent lights. Should the company from whom the bulbs are to be purchased allow a discount the business will be divided among local firms handling their products.

Although a hot election is under way today politics have seldom been discussed in city hall. Persons cloaked with the protection of civil service are not permitted to mix in politics. However, it has not been necessary in city hall for any official to remind any employe of this.

Gilbert E. Long, assistant to the city solicitor, William G. Cobau, today stated that council has the option of appropriating either one-half or one per cent of all monies collected from taxes here for the police pension fund. When the 1936 budget was compiled council set aside about $2,200 to place in the fund. Police will make a contribution each month to the fund. Receipts, less expenses, from their ball Thanksgiving night, also will go into the fund. The pension system becomes effective in January.

Curb has been set back and rounded off at North and North Mill street. WPA workers now are working in North street west toward North Mercer street.....Building permits for September show an estimated expenditure of $12,760.... John Jones, assistant to Electrician Rex Hughes may remain on the job according to city hall indications.

THE PARENT PROBLEM

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

CURBING HIGH TEMPER

"MY DEAR DR. MYERS: The behavior of my two children has given me very little cause for anxiety. There is, however, one cloud on my horizon. My six-year-old daughter will occasionally work herself into a state of extreme tension—I might almost say a fit—when faced by the necessity of going through an unpleasant ordeal—a shampoo, dose of medicine, or an enema. . . .

"She stages these scense, of course, to try to persuade me to abandon the matter at hand. I never have given in to her. When she begins to work herself up I take a firm attitude and explain why it is necessary for me to do what I am about to do. My breath is wasted. She stiffens herself and begins to scream. I spank. She holds her breath. My calm deserts me and I spank again—harder. Finally by main force I finish the task. It leaves us both shaken and exhausted. I try to calm her down by reading to her, rocking her or anything else that seems to divert her attention and bring about a happy state of mind.

"Then I go off by myself and hide in shame because I have lost my temper and abused the child. . . I suffer in shame and chagrin for days after one of these encounters."

Many Face Like Problem

My answer was about like this: Many a parent faces problems not unlike yours. Since you carry the matter through anyway (by force) as you probably should, why wait until the rage is high? Why not act at once? Why explain or coax? She clearly knows the reason. You are not fit then to reason, anyway; nor is she.

Next time, in such an instance, have everything ready and someone on hand to help you. Very quietly, in the fewest possible words, announce what is to be done and, with the assistant's aid, do the stunt with the greatest possible skill and dispatch. No occasion for spanking or saying even a word of disapproval. Keep your lips sealed. Let her yell as much as she likes. In the case of giving medicine, you should have it in her so quickly that she barely has time to scream or struggle; certainly not time to grow very angry.

After the affair has ended, reading a story, or even presenting a small gift, might be desirable. Don't promise these pleasures; merely have them follow the unpleasant task, regardless of how she acted, the purpose being to reduce future resistance through the influence of the pleasure which followed the last experience. By and by she will say, "You need not hold me." Your success will depend on how well you can hold your tongue and how matter-of-fact you can be.

TREAT A COLD AS IF YOU MEAN IT!
Don't Fool Around with Half-way Measures and Invite Serious Complications!

One of the worst things you can do is "kid around" with a cold.

The so-called "common cold" causes more serious sickness and more enforced absence from work than anything else.

It's a mistake to treat a cold lightly. A cold calls for a cold treatment and not a "cure-all". A cold calls for internal treatment, for a cold is an internal infection.

One of the best things you can take for a cold is Grove's Laxative Bromo Quinine. Your own doctor will tell you that.

First of all, Bromo Quinine is a cold tablet, made expressly for the treatment of colds.

Secondly it is internal medication and of fourfold effect.

Here's what it does:

First, it opens the bowels, an advisable step in treating a cold.

Second, it checks the infection in the system.

Third, it relieves the headache and fever.

Fourth, it tones the system and helps fortify against further attack.

Bromo Quinine tablets now come sugar-coated as well as plain. The sugar-coated are exactly the same as the regular, except that the tablets are coated with sugar for palatability.

Play safe in your treatment of a cold! The moment you feel the first symptom, go right to your druggist for a package of Grove's Laxative Bromo Quinine.

Start taking the tablets immediately, two every four hours. That action will usually break up a cold in 24 hours.

Bromo Quinine contains nothing harmful and is safe to take. Ask the druggist for Grove's Laxative Bromo Quinine and insist upon getting what you ask for!

The few pennies' cost may save you a lot in medical bills.

Union Services On Thanksgiving

Four Community Services Will Be Arranged By Pastors Of City

PLANS MADE AT MEETING MONDAY

The matter of the annual Thanksgiving services was discussed by the New Castle Ministerial Association in the First Presbyterian church on Monday and it was decided that the same plan as last year would be followed. That is, there will be four community services, to be arranged by the respective pastors of the districts. Services will be held in Mahoningtown with the churches there uniting. There will be service on the South Side and details will be announced later. On the East Side the same plan will be followed as has been worked out in other years. The other community service will be held in the downtown district and will include the down-town and North Hill churches.

Dr. George Presides

Dr. C. K. McGeorge, the president, was in charge of yesterday's meeting.

Devotions were conducted, with Rev. Paul Tau reading the scripture and Rev. Thomas B. Shearer led in prayer.

A note of thanks from Rev. Rees T. Williams for the expression of sympathy sent to him on the event of his wife's death was read and a motion was passed that the occasion be recorded on the minutes of the association.

The secretary was instructed to convey to Dr. G. S. Bennett the interest, hopes and prayers of the association for his speedy recovery and that he might soon be able to meet again with the association.

Origins Of Demonstrations

The order of the day was called for and Dr. McGeorge asked Rev. Chester T. R. Yeates, chairman of the program committee to present the program.

Rev. Yeates introduced Rev. James M. Guthrie who served as chairman of the Round-Table discussion. The subject under discussion was, "The Origins of the Denominations."

Rev. Paul J. Tau spoke for the Lutheran church, stating that Luther was the founder of the Protestant movement, about the year 1417.

Rev. D. C. Schnebly spoke for the Presbyterian church, giving many of the basic doctrines of the church as outlined by John Calvin in 1536.

Rev. C. H. Heaton in speaking for the Baptist church said the beginning of his church in America went back to the time of Roger Williams in 1599.

Rev. N. A. White in speaking for the Methodist church said his church went back to the time of John Wesley in 1738. And they were called Methodists in derision.

Rev. T. B. Shearer spoke of the beginnings of the Christian denomination and went back to the days of the Campbells about 1800.

Rev. McGeorge spoke for the United Presbyterians and said they were the baby among the denominations as they only began in 1858.

All the speakers brought into the discussion some of the principles the denomination were founded upon.

Revs. Guthrie and Yeates made closing remarks.

The meeting came to a close with Dr. C. B. Wingerd pronouncing the benediction.

The next meeting will be held on November 16, with program to be announced later.

Two Deputy Sheriffs At Polling Places

For the first time in the history of the county the sheriff appointed deputies to look after the two election precincts in Hickory township. J. L. Cummings was appointed in the first precinct and A. C. Cameron in the second. The appointments were necessary owing to the condition of Constable William J. Graham, who was seriously injured in an automobile accident, and unable to make appointment of deputies Judge Chambers looked through the election laws, but was unable to find a precedent. He then asked the sheriff to appoint deputies, which was done.

NATIONAL CAMPAIGN COST NEARLY $20,000,000

Estimates On Cost Are Made

Both Major Parties Spend Millions In Campaign To Elect President

FINAL REPORTS TO BE MADE SOON

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 3.—The national campaign has cost political parties and candidates approximately $20,000,000, it was estimated today.

The latest reports of the national political organizations, filed with the clerk of the house, showed that approximately $13,000,000 was spent during the year until five days before the election.

Expenditures during the last five days, it is estimated, would increase the total to $15,000,000.

Another $5,000,000, political observers estimate, was spent by state organizations and individual candidates.

Some Reports

The Republican national campaign, up to five days before election, entailed an expenditure by the national committee and allied senatorial and congressional organizations of $7,477,709, while the Democratic expenditures, together with unpaid bills, amounted to approximately $4,000,000.

The Union party conducted its campaign, according to its latest report, on a budget of $59,612, but the National Union of Social Justice, headed by the Rev. Charles E. Coughlin, spent $575,000 during the year.

The American Liberty League's expenditures, including the state organizations, approximated $500,000.

The only national organization reputedly engaged in the campaign which failed to file a report with the clerk of the house under the corrupt practices act was the Townsend Old-Age Pension organization. While information reached the clerk at one time that a report would be filed, it failed to arrive.

Huge Vote In Philadelphia

Early Rush To Polls Is Reported—Some Precincts Swamped

MAY CAST 850,000 BALLOTS IN CITY

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 3.—Presaging a record-breaking vote, Philadelphians swamped polling places today in the heaviest early rush of voters in the history of the city.

Democratic and Republican workers alike claimed their candidates had run up majorities during the first four hours of balloting, but from remarks made by the voters and the campaign buttons they wore, it was evident the balloting was close, especially between President Roosevelt and Gov. Alfred M. Landon.

Several minor disturbances were reported, half a dozen arrests were made and warrants were issued for the arrests of a Republican workers and an election judge after state Senator Harry Shapiro reported election officers had been ousted from a polling place by Republicans.

Although the day was cloudy, there was no rain in the forenoon, and the surge of voters indicated the total Philadelphia vote might pass 850,000, which would be within 12 per cent of the city's registration of 952,000. In the enrollment, Republicans hold a lead of 108,000 over the Democrats.

Edwin R. Cox, chairman of the Republican city committee, reiterated his claim Gov. Landon will carry the city by 120,000, while John B. Kelly, Democratic city chairman, insisted the President would garner a 50,000 plurality. Commenting on Cox's prediction, Kelly said:

"He can cut the majority he claims in half and I'll bet any amount at any odds he names that he is still wrong."

May Be 45,000,000 Votes In Election

Heavy Voting Being Reported Throughout Nation; Despite Weather

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Nov. 3.—Unusually heavy voting in every section of the country was reported today as an estimated army of more than 45,000,000 citizens marched to the polls to decide the most intense presidential election in many years.

The balloting, save in the deep south, was conducted for the most part under cloudy skies, with squalls of rain, flurries of snow, and steadily falling temperatures that heralded the beginning of winter.

President Roosevelt and Gov. Alfred M. Landon followed up their radio appeals to the country to vote by themselves setting an early example. Mr. Roosevelt voted before noon in Hyde Park (N. Y.) town hall, accompanied by members of his family. "For luck" the president wore a heavy gold watch chain that once belonged to Andrew Jackson.

Gov. Landon was an early voter in his home precinct in Independence, (Kas.) He dropped his ballot in the box before 9 a. m.

Becker Undergoes Severe Grilling

Trial Of Night Watchman For Death Of Katherine Bracken, Is Nearly Finished

(International News Service)

BROOKVILLE, Pa., Nov. 3.—John Becker, 37-year-old night watchman on trial for his life in connection with the brutal slaying on April 10 of Miss Katherine Bracken, signal tower operator, was vigorously cross-examined today by Alex Scribner, special prosecutor, who attempted to prove by his questioning that Becker's repudiation of his alleged confession was at wide variance with his original statements.

On April 28, Becker was reported by police to have voluntarily admitted the crime in a detailed confession. Later, the suspect gave another statement to police, setting forth in gruesome detail how he had bashed Miss Bracken over the head with an ink-stand when she refused his advances in her lonely tower, slashed her with a pocket knife, and thrown her body over an embankment.

From the witness stand, Becker categorically denied efforts would be made to show Becker's "confession" was obtained under "third degree" police methods.

Both prosecution and defense indicated they looked for completion of the trial today, the seventh day of testimony.

Clenmore School Nearly Completed

School Building In Neshannock Township Being Modernized

Two months work remains at the Clenmore school project in Neshannock township, where the Works Progress Administration is modernising one two-room school building and a one-room structure which adjoins it, J. Vale Downie, district director, declared today.

Except for a small amount of painting, the interiors have been completely remodeled and children are attending classes. The interiors were completed at the beginning of the term.

The project called for the complete renovation of the buildings with new foundations, stone veneer exterior, new roofing, new flooring, renovation of the heating system, the installation of new metal laths and the replastering of walls.

The one-room structure was raised to the level of the other building and a cellar was excavated. To date the project is 60 per cent complete. The stone work is to be finished, a hallway is being built and murals are to be painted on the school rooom walls.

About 50 men will have been given employment for seven and a half months when the project is completed.

Assign Sigler As Motorcycle 'Cop'

Autoists Who Drive Recklessly To Receive Tag

Patrolman George Sigler, recently returned from a training course at the Hershey school of the state police, has been assigned as motorcycle patrolman, Mayor Charles E. McGrath stated today.

He said that the motorcycle would be in operation at various times of the day and night.

"The motorcycle patrolman is going out on the streets to make them safe," Mayor McGrath stated.

The mayor said that assignment of Sigler to the 'cycle does not mean a campaign is planned.

"However, those who persist in reckless driving and speeding can rest assured the streets are going to be safe for other drivers," the mayor declared.

Boy Keeps Busy While In Hospital

Despite the fact that he was on his back for three months in the New Castle hospital, suffering with an infection of the right hip bone, Charles Martin, aged about 14, of 414 Electric street, made good use of his time.

The young man, who is talented with his hands, constructed several articles that have been admired by an unusually large number of persons. On display in the window of the South Side branch of the New Castle Free Library, South Mill street, are three clever articles which the boy made. An attractive toy airplane, belt and knife carrier, have caught the eyes of countless passersby. These items were constructed during the youth's convalescing days. Charles has recovered sufficiently to return to his home and is reported showing daily improvement. He is a Boy Scout, member of Troop 55.

State Capital Vote Is Heavy

Former Turnouts At Polls Being Eclipsed By Balloting Today

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Nov. 3.—Voting in the State capital during the first few hours today was two and three times as heavy as in the same period in previous years, party observers at the city's polling places reported.

Interest was high, although, except for an argument in one precinct over posting of a Landon picture near the polling place, no disturbances were recorded.

Much straight party voting was evidenced in the speed with which electors passed through the polling places. In districts where voting machines were in use, many persons took less than a minute to cast their vote.

Cloudy weather, clearing slightly as the day advanced toward noon, prevailed. Weather bureau officials said the daylight hours might pass without rain but predicted rain, turning to snow late tonight.

The eggplant is said to be a native of southern Asia where it has been cultivated since remote antiquity.

Brakeman's Death Results In Four Boys Being Held

Youths In Washington County Admit Firing Of Rifles Haphazardly, Brakeman Killed

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Pa., Nov. 3.—Badly frightened, four young boys were held for an inquest today in connection with the death of Howard Leyshon, 40-year-old Pennsylvania Railroad brakeman, who was shot through the heart Saturday under mysterious circumstances.

Leyshon, father of four children, was riding atop a moving coal car when, according to C. E. Luellen, a friend who was on the car with him, he gasped:

"My God, I'm shot!"

Four Boys Held

Then he crumpled and fell from the car, his friend said. Luellen jumped to the ground, found Leyshon dead, and called police.

The four boys held were Clyde Davidson, 17, Charles Sasek, 13, Newton Jeffers, 12, ad Charles Bitner, 14. All admitted, according to Chief County Detective H. J. Powell, that they had been aimlessly shooting .22 rifles near the railroad tracks. They said they had separated and fled after seeing a crowd gather at the freight car, and hearing of Leyshon's death. The youths were quoted by Powell as saying they had been hunting skunks, and started to fire their guns haphazardly when they couldn't find any.

New Regulations For Hunters Will Be Enforced Here

Coen Warns Hunters That Shooting Will Not Be Permitted Before 9 A. M.

Lawrence County hunters are warned that they will not be permitted to hunt before 9 a. m. on the opening day of the season, Friday, November 6, by Game Warden Frank L. Coen, and Coen and his deputies intend to see that this feature of the law is rigidly respected.

Anyone found hunting before 9 o'clock on the morning of the opening day will be hailed before a justice of the peace or alderman and fined $25 and costs.

Coon hunters are also warned that they cannot hunt raccoon until one hour before sunset on Friday. The law specifies the opening date as November 6, one hour before sunset, and does not mean that hunters can go out after midnight on November 5.

Doyle was the only Erie & Ashtabula division veteran among the scores of Pennsylvania men to be retired this month.

Division headquarters of the Pennsy today praised Mr. Doyle's service record, one covering a period of 50 years and 11 months.

PRESIDENT AND FAMILY TO AWAIT ELECTION RETURNS

mer-long campaign over the radio by pointing out late last night that 55,000,000 citizens were entitled to vote today. Expressing the hope they exercise their franchise, regardless of party affiliation, he reminded his fireside audience:

"And when you go to the ballot box tomorrow do not be afraid to vote as you think best for the kind of a world you want to have. There need be no strings on any of us in the polling place.

Ballot Secret

"A man or woman in the polling booth is his or her own boss. There once was a time when the ballot was not secret. That is not so today. How a citizen votes is the citizen's own business. No one will fire you because you vote contrary to his wishes or instructions. No one will know how you vote. And don't let anyone intimidate you or coerce you by telling you otherwise.

"In the polling booth we are all equals."

Significantly, however, Mr. Roosevelt ended his radio talk with a quotation from Theodore Roosevelt, which ran as follows:

"It is not the critic who counts; not the man who points out how the strong men stumbled, or where the doer of deeds could have done them better. The credit belongs to the man who is actually in the arena; whose face is marred by dust and sweat and blood; who strives valiantly; who errs and comes short again; who knows the great enthusiasms, the great devotions, and spends himself in a worthy cause; who at the best knows in the end the triumphs of high achievement; and who at the worst, if he fails, at least fails while daring greatly; so that his place shall never be with those cold and timid souls who know neither defeat nor victory."

In Same Voting Place

The Presidential group was voting today in the same wooden town hall where Mr. Roosevelt has been voting for years.

Shortly before he went on the air, Mr. Roosevelt motored down from Hyde Park to Poughkeepsie, where the temporary executive offices are located, and received a rather surprising reception in the county seat of his normally Republican home-town county.

Despite a drizzling rain, approximately 10,000 people packed themselves solidly into the entire block fronting on the hotel balcony from which the President spoke and gave him an enthusiastic welcome.

Earlier yesterday the President had taken his customary pre-election tour through Duchess, Orange and Ulster counties, making four very informal speeches and waving at comparatively small crowds.

Last night, however, upon seeing Poughkeepsie's unexpected turnout, Mr. Roosevelt expanded on his Hudson valley informalities. One paragraph of his extemporaneous speech outlined his whole philosophy of government.

"We cannot reach a millenium or Utopia in any four years, or eight years, but at least I have felt that people in responsible positions ought to start the ball rolling, that they ought to make an effort, through legislation and through public opinion, in a perfectly normal, sane, sensible way, to provide security—security for themselves so they would not individually worry—security for their families, security for their homes and a greater security for their jobs, and, incidentally, a greater security for the people who employ them," the President said.

Report Promise Of Wage Increase

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 3—Collective bargaining representatives of 20,000 employes of the Jones and Laughlin Steel Corporation announced today they had been promised a wage increase by the management.

Although at first denying the truth of the workers' announcement, the corporation subsequently issued a statement setting forth that the outcome of negotiations between employes and the corporation "will not be known for several days." The corporation statement, however, did not deny the assertion of W. H. Turner, leader of the employe representatives, that he had been given permission by J. B. Mitchell, personnel official of Jones and Laughlin, to inform workers in the corporation's mills of the impending pay boost.

Turner said Mitchell did not say how much the increase would be, and told him it would be "several days" before any estimate could be made.

Ships Tied-Up Along Eastern Seaboard Today

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Nov. 3.—As spreading strikes tied-up 91 ships along the eastern seaboard today, a show-down in the long battle between the striking seaman's defense committee and the International Seaman's Union which has branded the strike as "outlaw," drew rapidly nearer.

Plans to man strike ships with members of the I. S. U., which is affiliated with the American Federation of Labor, have been completed, David Grange,, third vice president, announced, and the move to smash the strike will begin tomorrow.

Bitter over the attitude of the union as well as the ship owners, Joseph Curran, leader of the defense committee, warned:

"I foresee violence and plenty of it. I charge that the ship owners are trying to stir up real trouble."

Grange's rejoiner was: "We'll take Curran like Grant took Richmond."

Couple Celebrates 55th Anniversary; Home Address Same

Mr. And Mrs. W. A. Miller Entered R. F. D. 5 House As Newlyweds

Fifty-five years have come and gone and Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Miller, well-known residents of R. F. D. 5, still reside in the home they took up housekeeping as newlyweds that many years ago.

At the Miller home relatives and friends gathered recently to celebrate their 55th anniversary.

Twenty-eight guests were there, several of them from out of town. A four-tier-high cake, bearing 55 candles, formed the centerpiece of the table where the group enjoyed a buffet lunch at the close of the celebration.

Present as guests from Beaver Falls were Mrs. Louis Gerber and Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Patterson and son, Willard.

NEW DEAL' FATE BEING DECIDED IN NATION TODAY

appeals to the nation, in which there was no ranchor, no accusations, no claims, only a fervent appeal to the voters to vote. The passion of campaign speeches was put behind them.

Barring landslides, such as the country has witnessed in the last four presidential elections—Harding in '20, Coolidge in '24, Hoover in '28, and Roosevelt in '32—it is likely that the outcome of the election will be slower than usual in reaching the public.

New York Votes To 9 P. M.

Due to the greatly increased registration—15,000,000 more registered than voted four years ago—some states have lengthened the hours of polling In New York, for example, an additional three hours have been given the voters to cast their ballots, the booths not closing until 9 p. m. (EST). In other years, the outcome in New York has been fairly well known by that hour.

A relatively close popular vote in many states, especially the larger states like Pennsylvania, Ohio, Illinois, would tend to further delay determination of the electoral vote. And while the managers on both sides militantly assert their claims to the electoral votes, they generally concede that the popular vote in many key and important states probably will be close. This will operate to delay concessions on either side. So long as the popular vote is close, neither side will be inclined to do any conceding.

Crucial State

New York, with its 47 electoral votes, and the home state of Mr. Roosevelt was the cynosure of the nation's eyes. New York is important to both candidates. But to the Republicans, New York is almost vital. Some days ago, Chairman Hamilton conceded that it would be difficult if not impossible to conceive a Landon victory without the great bloc of 47 votes from the Empire State. The Democrats can win without New York—they did it in 1916—but the loss of New York would greatly jar their confidence and endanger their chances, for a Republican victory probably would be symptomatic of the vote in other populous centers.

More is at stake in this election than simply the presidency.

Control of congress and the political complexion of 33 states governments is at stake as well in today's balloting, as well as literally thousands of minor city, county and state offices.

Entire House To Be Named

The entire house of representatives, 435 members, less the three already elected in Maine, is hanging in the balance, as well as 35 of the 96 seats in the senate. Thirty-three states will elect governors. In some states, the contests are so bitter over these lesser offices that the presidential race has to share the popular interest.

Republican gains are generally expected in the house, which has been overwhelmingly Democratic for six years, while few believe the Republicans can actually win control, the opinion is general that the Republicans will pick up fifty or more seats. The senate will remain Democratic irrespective of how the election goes today. The present Democratic majority in the senate is so great, and such a percentage of solid south Democrats are running for certain reelection that the Republicans cannot hope to win there.

NEW HAMPSHIRE TOWN MAKES FIRST ELECTION REPORT

the presidential election was lost today.

Then township clerk Gertrude C. Nadig gave a party for all the voters, and tne voting began shortly after midnight.

Second Town In

New Ashford, Mass., Nov. 3.—Second town in the nation to report, New Ashford in the Berkshire hills, today gave Governor Alfred M. Landon 26 votes to 19 for President Roosevelt (D).

A 100 per cent vote was cast.

In the hot fight for U. S. senator, G. O. P. candidate Henry Cabot Lodge, Jr., polled 24 as against 20 for Gov. James M. Curley, Democrat, one for Thomas C. O'Brien, Union party, and one for Alonzo B. Cook, Independent.

Third To Report

Tolland, Mass., Nov. 3.—Pulling a surprise, this little town on the Massachusetts-Connecticut border today became the third in the nation to report in the 1936 presidential election, giving Governor Landon 44 votes to 21 for President Roosevelt.

The vote was an upset for the Democrats. Despite an increased number of votes over the 1932 election, President Roosevelt polled one less than he did four years ago. Landon, on the other hand, polled five more votes than President Hoover in 1932.

In Michigan

Pointe Aux Barques, Mich., Nov. 3.—Gov. Alfred M. Landon polled eight votes and President Franklin D. Roosevelt six in the first complete returns from any Michigan community today.

In 1932, President Roosevelt defeated former President Hoover three to one here.

In Kansas

Topeka, Kan., Nov. 3.—Reports of the first election returns—85 votes from three precincts—gave Roosevelt 48 votes, Landon 35 and Thomas 2.

One precinct was in Topeka, another in the north part of the city and the third in Oakland, a labor residential section.

Registration Bureau Busy

Many Mixups Straightened Out For Persons Who Had Been Refused Votes

Registration Clerk Thomas Edmunds was kept on the jump today by complaints from persons who had been unable to vote owing to mixup of various kinds. In many of the cases the registrants had gone to the wrong voting places.

In several instances persons who had registered twice and had failed to come to the office and make the necessary changes were debarred from voting. The bureau had sent out cards to all who had registered twice, but they had paid no attention to them. One man declared that he had only registered once, but when the clerk got out his two cards—one for registration in 1935 and one for 1936—he admitted that his signature was on both of them. He had registered as a Republican in 1935 and as a Democrat in 1936.

Another case was that of a man who said that he was registered and that he had been voting for the past 38 years, yet his name could not be found on the list by the election board. It was found, upon investigation, that his name had been placed in the list of those who had died. He explained that it was his father, for whom he was named, that had died. The name and address being the same the error was one very easily made. He was given credentials to vote.

In some cases it was found that election boards, in their hurry in going over the names, had overlooked the name of the complaintant. In other cases it was found that there had been differences in spelling of names. Nearly all of those who came to the office had their troubles satisfactorily adjusted. A duplicate set of registrations is kept at the registration bureau and it was no trouble to find out just what was the matter in each case.

My New York By James Aswell

Copyright, 1936, Central Press Association

NEW YORK, Nov. 3.—Madness lurks just below the surface of the crowds and there are days when it boils up and you get the distinct impression that this is Wonderland and the snark may be encountered on any sunny corner.

For instance, take this reporter's yesterday. In the early morning I had an appointment to meet a man in the lobby of the Waldorf. The taxi driver I hailed immediately turned downtown at 42nd and Fifth Avenue.

"Hey! The Waldorf's at 49th and Park Avenue!" I yelled.

"No it isn't, sir. The Waldorf's at 34th and Fifth."

"All right. Then I don't want to go to the Waldorf. Take me to 49th and Park. There's just a chance the hotel may be there."

He complied, abeit reluctantly. And on the way I discovered the man actually didn't know that the old Waldorf had been torn down years ago and the Empire State Building erected on the site. He was a driver from Brooklyn and revealed he hadn't been across the river in fourteen years until that morning.

Later at home I learnd over the house phone that the representative of a typewriter company was calling. He wished to assure himself, on behalf of his firm, that I was satisfied with the rattler recently purchased for this tapping.

That was nice. But when the man appeared he sat down at my mill and began to tinker, pointing out various advantages in a sort of sales-talk monotone. Immediately I got the impression that he didn't know very much about the machine.

"Here's a piece of paper," I suggested. "You can test it better with something to write on."

"Oh, I don't typewrite," he beamed. "Just never got the knack of the durn thing."

While musing on this strange occurrence, I turned on the radio and the dulcet voice of a lady politician floated out. I find political speeches the perfect anodyne for jangled nerves. You can listen to them without the slightest impediment of thought; for insomnia they beat hot milk or counting sheep. But this lady, after a long and scathing denunciation of one candidate, got mixed in her final paragraph and advised her hearers strongly to vote for him!

So I saw that radio was no escape mechanism for those fleeing lunacy. I was on the point of reaching for the hard, sane verbiage of my Brittanica when the phone rang.

"Is this the New York Life Insurance Company?" a man's voice demanded.

I told him he had the wrong number.

"Then this isn't New York life?"

"No."

"Fine. I have got them several times when trying to call you. This is the butcher and will you please ask Mrs. Aswell whether she wants the meat delivered this afternoon?"

No sooner was the receiver on the hook than the front doorbell rang. The handyman stood outside, hat in hand.

"Would you mind seeing to your turtle?" he inquired.

"What's the matter with our turtle?" He is usually the most well-behaved of pets and stays quietly under the terrace swing. But of course I had no assurance that he might not be potentially rabid.

"The lady in the apartment over yours has been watching the turtle from her window. You see the turtle's on its back and she can't do her housework for wondering whether he'll be able to turn over. Interferes with her work."

"Work?" I mumbled shrilly, entering into the mood of the town. "Who wants to work in an asylum? I'm going out and watch the turtle myself.

Can New Castle Stop Streak Of Martins Ferry?

Ohioans Have Won Six Straight Games, Have Big Powerful Veteran Team

New Castle's "Red Hurricane" Underdogs In Battle This Coming Saturday

There is a big question mark at New Castle high school today. Can the 'Red Hurricane" stop the six-straight game winning streak of the powerful Martins Ferry high eleven?

If you can answer this one, you are better than good. The sons of Pa Newc are going down to the Ohio River valley on Saturday to try and stop the mad rush of the "Ferries" toward an undefeated season, but at the moment the job looks altogether too big for the New Castle cripples.

Many Cripples

"Dudey" Perrett is definitely out of the picture for this week and perhaps for the rest of the year. Dal Mumford is still nursing his twisted knee and ankle and Nick Albert is still nursing his injured back. Bridenbaugh could use these three boys very nicely in the game this week.

Can New Castle halt this man "Johnny Bennett", the Martins Ferry high triple-threat man. He is reported to be almost a whole backfield in himself. Warren had a tough time trying to throttle this youngster. He can throw passes like Dizzy Dean does a baseball, and with a water-logged ball like it was for the Warren game, he made the pigskin do tricks aplenty.

Martins Ferry Good

To quote Head Coach Phil Bridenbaugh who has seen the "Purple Riders" play two or three games this year, New Castle will be on the losing end by two or three touchdowns.

"The Martin's Ferry high team is just about as good a high school team as Massillon and in some respects better, and there is hardly any hope of New Castle taking over the Ohioans", was the way Bridenbaugh put it.

"You can say for me though, that the eleven men that I start at Martins Ferry will be eleven of the fightingest boys that I have on the squad. It will take lots of fight and the proper spirit to make a good showing against the big Martins Ferry team."

New Castle Outweighed

The Ohioans will outweigh New Castle about eight pounds per man. This is quite a weight advantage. New Castle is hoping for a dry field, so that Charley Mort can get under way. Paul Small with a full big league game under his belt should be even better this week against the "Ferries".

The 25 to 0 victory over Warren, while New Castle could eke out but a 13 to 12 victory, is the shaping up basis for the game this week. The Martins Ferry boys are "pointing for New Castle. The defeat last year of 26 to 18 must be avenged say the Ohio Riverites.

Keystones Hurl Grid Challenge At Wabash Team

The Keystone A. C. football team through its capable Rocco P. Viggiano, the publicity agent, asks that the Wabash Bears football team of the Seventh ward meet the "Keys" this coming Sunday at Rosena field.

Last year the "Keys" were the only team to upset the great Wabash Bears. The reason the Keystones are asking for the game at Rosena field is due to the fact that every other year the Keys play at Mahoningtown.

For a game with the Keystone A. C. eleven see any of the players or call 4151-M and ask for Rocco P. Viggiano.

Nonpareil Club Shoot Tonight

Members of the Nonpareil Rifle club will meet tonight for a practice shoot at the West Side range at 7:30 o'clock, according to an announcement by Karl Rohrer today.

The Nonpareils went to Niles, O., recently and lost to the McKinley Rifle club 925 to 890 in a Penn-Ohio Rifle League match. High score was held by Robert Baskett of Niles with 191, while Eckles of the Nonpareils had 190.

The results of the match: Nonpareils, Eckles 190, Lindsay 179, Barber 177, Karl Rohrer 176, Walter Adams 169—890.

Niles: Baskett 191, Cashott 186, Lester Welsh 186, George Potter 181, Ralph Johns 181—925.

Syracuse Seeks New Grid Coach, Wanted Waldorf

No Chance To Woo Waldorf From Northwestern After Beating Minnesota

HOWARD JONES IS MENTIONED

By DAVID J. WALSH
International News Service Sports Editor.

NEW YORK, Nov. 3.—It may interest Northwestern university to know that, not many hours before it went out and beat the great Minnesota machine last week-end, Syracuse was understood to be thinking quite seriously of trying to woo Head Coach Lynn Waldorf back to the scenes of his youth. Waldorf played at Syracuse, coached successfully in the Missouri valley and then came up to succeed Dick Hanley at Northwestern where he's hit the headlines with something of a typographical bellow.

His career elsewhere furnished a sardonic touch to the situation at Syracuse which has spent years in trying to come up with a satisfying coach and is currently expected to give Vic Hanson plenty of prairie at the close of the year. Apparently it's possible for a football coach, like the prophet, not to be without honor, save on his own campus.

No Chance Now.

"We'd like to get Waldorf," the writer was informed a few days before the Northwestern-Minnesota game, "but I guess we haven't much hope."

After what happened at Evanston on Saturday, I'd personally say that they couldn't get Waldorf away from Northwestern with an armed posse. However, there was mention made of Howard Jones of Southern California. Jones, if memory isn't entirely at fault, coached at Syracuse away back there when the nose guard wasn't effeminate.

Quite a coincidence—or is it?—that Syracuse didn't think of Waldorf and Jones when the former was just a young fellow trying to get along and Jones was having those bad years at U. S. C.

As for Hanson, the objection to him is much the same as that which was leveled at practically all predecessors. In other years, he couldn't beat the good ones. This time he can't beat anybody.

Colaluca Eleven Tops Frisco, 19-13

Led by Hitchen and Myron, the Colaluca football team of the South Side, defeated the Frisco eleven, 19-13 in a fast game played before 1,000 spectators at Frisco.

Hitchen galloped over the Frisco goal line on two different occasions while Myron slipped over for the other touchdown. The South Siders want a game with the Wabash Bears of Mahoningtown.

Yarosz Tapers Off Training

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 3.—Attempting to regain the fistic honors he once held, Teddy Yarosz of Monaca was to taper off his training sessions here today in preparation for tomorrow's 10-rounder with Ken Overlin.

The former champion reports himself in tip-top shape and confident that he will be able to stave off the rugged southerner who in several bouts here has never been seen in defeat. Although little betting has been reported, it was understood that Overlin ruled a slight favorite.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

Eddie Zivic of Pittsburgh won an exciting eight-round decision over Ritchie Fontaine, Montana, who boasts a victory over Featherweight Champion Henry Armstrong, at New York last night. Zivic weighed 133 1-3 and Fontaine 133. Zivic landed several wallops that hurt Fontaine and on one occasion the bell saved the western boy. Zivic tired toward the end and Fontaine chased him all around the ring.

Jess Tatum, right end; Odell Smothers, center, and Howard Bardes, two-letter halfback, have been dropped by Coach Hunk Anderson of North Carolina State "for the best interests of the team".

Kid Dewey, Greenville flash, who is one of the fastest 115-pounders in amateur boxing ranks of Pennsylvania, wants to fight at New Castle, according to word received here today.

Joe Louis and Johnny Risko, the veteran, will meet December 7 at Cleveland. Ed Bang of the Cleveland News will promote the scrap. The articles of agreement will be signed Friday at New York.

Leon (Goose) Goslin, veteran outfielder on the Detroit Bengals team, rescued two men adrift 12 hours in a disabled boat on the Delaware river yesterday. They were Dave Lawrence, Jr., and his brother Norman, who were found drifting 12 miles from Salem, N. J.

Match Will Be At Nonpareil Range; Eau Clair Defeats Locals Last Friday

New Castle Rifle club will meet Nonparcil at the Nonpareil range on Thursday night of this week. The last time these teams met the New Castle Rifle club was the winner. Keen rivalry exists between them and much interest is centered upon the coming shoot.

Last Friday the New Castle Rifle club bowed to defeat at Eau Clair, Pa. The Eau Clair team is considered one of the best in the Pennsylvania-Ohio league and the locals came within three points of having a tie game. The scores for the teams follow:

Grove City Squad Will Get Rest, To Meet Ithaca Next

GROVE CITY, Nov. 3.—Welcoming an open date this week to rest his battered squad, Coach Amos called off football drills yesterday and today, and will do little hard work this week with his Grove City College squad. Half a dozen regulars will benefit from the rest, and may be able to return to action in the Ithaca and Thiel games which will complete the schedule.

The poor showing of the Grovers, with one victory, three defeats and a tie, can be traced to injuries, which cost Amos the services of a varsity tackle, two ends, a fullback and quarterback for crucial games. The thin ranks of reserves have also been further reduced by accidents. With no games scheduled until November 17, Amos hopes to have full strength available for Ithaca and Thiel.

Despite the bruising Slippery Rock game, the Crimson performers emerged with no further casualties, although the entire varsity line-up took a physical beating. Lack of reserves at end and tackle, kept the starters in for 60 minutes, excepting for a brief period when A'hearn had to be removed for first aid.

Grid Tickets Going Fast

Tickets for the New Castle-Martins Ferry football game at the Ohio city this coming Saturday, are going fast here, according to Eddie Connery of the Sporting Goods store.

The reserved seat tickets sell for 65 cents. The general admission tickets at 50 cents and student tickets at 25 cents. The student tickets are available only at the high school.

Ed. Raney of the Carnegie-Illinois Steel company has a block of choice seats on the 50-yard line for the game and reports that they are going fast in the mill.

Indications point to upwards of 1,000 New Castle grid fans accompanying the football team on the special train.

Something will get you if you don't elect our man." "Something will get you if you don't buy our product." And we call it the home of the brave.

Union Battles At Shenango On Friday

Class B Rivals Also Hungry For Victory; Expect Exciting Game

With the Lawrence County Class B title again in the hands of Bessemer high, following its triumph over Sheango, Friday, Union township high and Shenango township are looking forward to ther annually battle, Friday afternoon, at the Shenango field.

On the grid calendar of the two schools, the coming game is regarded as one of the most important battles. Rivalry is keen and, because of this, an exciting contest is assured the fans. Union and Shenango are hungry for victory following tough games last week when they lost by the margin of a touchdown. In its battle with Bessemer, Shenango looked like it was going to gain a scoreless tie until a long pass broke up the score in the final minutes. Beaver handed the Unionites a tough 7-0 defeat. Union looked impressive in the game.

From now on, Shenango will be known as the Wildcats in sports circles, Coach Nocera announced today. The school has adopted this name for their teams. After watching them battle Bessemer, the nickname fits them like a glove. In Carl Kirkwood and Currie, the East New Castle lads have a pair of gridders who have what it takes. The teams have forgotten last week's games and have settled down drilling for the coming encounter.

George Mike Is Visiting Here

West Virginia Wesleyan Grid Star Visiting At His Home, East Long Avenue

One of West Virginia Wesleyan's outstanding gridders, George Mike, of East Long avenue, is spending several days at his home.

Mike is the lad who helped to pull one of the biggest grid surprises of the current season when Wesleyan defeated the otherwise undefeated Duquesne university eleven. Mike nailed one of the Duke's backs for the two pointers that won for Wesleyan. Mike is easily one of the standouts at the West Virginia institution. Willie Ciccone, another South Sider, is also at Wesleyan.

New Assistant At Game Farm

Vincent Gennaro Transferred Here From Fisher State Game Farm

NINE THOUSAND BIRDS AT FARM

Foundation Erected Last Week For Addition To Present Incubator House

Vincent Gennaro, assistant superintendent of the Fisher State Game Farm in Montgomery county, has been transferred to the same position at the Jordon State Game Farm in Scott township, Lawrence county. He took over his new duties yesterday.

In addition to his three years experience at the Fisher Farm, Mr. Gennaro spent two years at the Conservation Institute Game Propagation School in New Jersey. He comes to the Jordan Farm with a good record.

Expansion Activities

While there is a lull in actual propagating activities at the state game farm at this time of the year, Superintendent V. T. Warfel and his men are busy with improvement and expansion activities.

Ground was broken and the foundation erected last week for an addition to the present incubator house to accommodate an additional incubating unit which will increase the capacity 50 per cent and will permit either setting 20,000 more eggs per season or the same number of eggs as this year (41,000) and finishing setting early in June so that the egg-producing hens may be liberated while they are still laying good, thereby laying and hatching a clutch in the wild. Either method will result in an increase in the number of birds in the wild.

Wintering Nine Thousand

The ten large wire-covered holding fields at the farm are full of pheasants; a large number are being held in open fields by having one wing clipped. There is a total of about 9,000 ringneck pheasants being wintered at the farm, 6,000 of which are male birds for spring release in Western Pennsylvania and the balance for use as breeders on the farm next spring.

Last winter 2,100 male birds were held at the Jordan Farm for spring release and reports indicating an abundance of young wild hatched pheasants are being received from nearly all sections where they were released. 125 of the above mentioned mature male ringnecks were released in Lawrence county during the earl spring of 1936.

Very good results are also being reported from the 1,700 day-old pheasant chicks and the 1,000 eggs which were distributed among Lawrence county sportsmen this season. All full-time employees of the Jordan Farm have had five to nine years experience, and several of the extra summer employees have had five seasons experience in this specialized line of work, and they have given sportsmen and others raising pheasants a great deal of valuable information and help besides doing an efficient job at the game farm. This year 16,000 pheasants were brooded at the farm with a loss of only 7 per cent, the lowest mortality record since the farm was established.

Miner On Editorial Staff At Allegheny

Robert S. Miner, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Miner, 521 E. Winter avenue, is a member of the editorial staff of the "Literary Magazine," a student publication of Allegheny college, Meadville, which this week made its first appearance of the year.

Miner, a sophomore, was the outstanding contributor of the freshman class last year. His contributions to the 1936 autumn issue indicate that he is one of the most competent writers on the staff.

Tuesday, Nov. 3

Dear J. P.

Today is election day and it won't be long till the world knows its fate. After today everyone should go to his neighbor and shake hands and say "Let's forget the whole darn thing". Life is going on just the same, it makes no difference weather your man gets in or mine.

This is not a political speech, but I would like to remind you that the bargain party is very much alive. You may consider this an invitation to win. Our headquarters are on the want-ad. page.

Until later, I remain your most humble servant,

Quality Pete.

Strive To Save Lives Of Babies

Two Of Quadruplets Born In Missouri Monday Are Taken By Death

(International News Service)

SENATH, Mo., Nov. 3.—With death having claimed two of the quadruplets born late yesterday to Mrs. James Bridges, wife of a share cropper living near here, an ambulance today sped to the Bridges two-room log cabin to transfer the remaining infants to a Memphis hospital in an effort to save their lives.

The babies who died, according to John L. Sando, local druggist, were the oldest, a 3½-pound boy, and the youngest, a 2-pound girl. The two surviving infants are girls.

The infants were born at two-minute intervals. The first arrived at 6:30 yesterday evening, and all were delivered by Dr. W. F. Speidel. 65-year-old country doctor. Dr Speidel's son, Dr. Roy Speidel, 40, came in later and the two worked tirelessly to keep the tots alive.

The eldest and youngest of the quadruplets died some time during the night, Sando said. The druggist said that the weights of the youngsters ranged from two to 3½ pounds.

Sando said that Dr. Speidel told him that when he informed the father that his wife had presented him with quadruplets that Bridges fainted.

That election interest here reached a new high today was seen in the casting of 256 ballots before 12 noon.

Public Health Nursing One Of Red Cross Aids

Only One Of Many Valuable Services Rendered To Citizens Of County

TRAIN WOMEN IN HOME NURSING

One of the many valuable aids rendered during the past year by the Lawrence County Chapter, American Red Cross, was the service of the public health nurse, whose skill and knowledge was available when needed.

In addition to assisting families with the problem of sickness, the nurse instructed many women in the knowledge of what to do in an emergency when one is sick, and in better methods of home sanitation and habits.

She also assisted with four well-baby clinics throughout the county.

Mrs. David H. Kay, chairman of the nursing committee of the Chapter has the following to say in connection with the chapter's nursing program:

"The Red Cross Public Health Nurse was active in New Castle and in Lawrence county the past year. The nurse in gray with the emblematic black bag made 634 visits on behalf of 109 sick persons in city and to rural homes. She assisted with four clinics for babies and instructed two classes of forty women in practical methods of caring for sick in the home, in better methods of home sanitation and health habits. Worthwhile? Want to help? This is just one of the essential Red Cross programs you will support by joining the Red Cross now through your local Chapter."

The annual Roll Call of the Chapter opens tomorrow when someone will visit your home and ask you to enroll in this great organization devoted to the relief of suffering.

Chairman Paul F. Butz, in commenting on the memberships which the Chapter receives, states that Life Memberships are no longer recognized by the National Red Cross. In the days following after the war, when funds for community needs were more readily available, those who gave a contribution to the Chapter, of fifty dollars, were considered to be life members and exempt from further giving. The further need for help from persons who are able to contribute sums such as these, is urgently needed at this time. No matter how large your contribution, only fifty cents of it goes to the National Red Cross. The larger the contribution, the more it will help the local chapter in its work in the home community.

The friends of Mrs. Alfred Graham will be sorry to know that her hand which was caught in the wringer recently became so serious she was removed to the Youngstown hospital Friday.

TRAIN CRASHES TRUCK AT HARBOR; TWO DEAD

Accident Takes Place This Morning At Harbor Bridge Crossing

BOTH YOUNG MEN INSTANTLY KILLED

Claude M. Patton, Jr., New Castle, And Stanley D. Miller, Youngstown, Victims

Claude M. Patton, Jr., aged 21, of 714 Young street, this city, and Stanley D. Miller, aged 23, of 344 Grant street, Youngstown, O., met instant death at 8:47 this morning, when a truck owned by the Wehle Baking Company, of the Hathaway Bakeries, Inc., system of Hubbard road, Youngstown, O., was struck by the Valley Special of the Pennsylvania R. R. at the Harbor Bridge crossing.

The driver had a clear vision of the crossing for a distance of around 150 feet, but because of the murky weather conditions this morning, is believed to have failed to notice the speeding passenger train, and to have driven onto the tracks directly in front of the train.

Truck Carried Up Track

The truck was struck about the center, witnesses stated, and was carried up the track for a distance of around ninety yards, where it was finally cast over the railroad embankment to the edge of the Shenango river. Portions of the truck and its contents were strewn along the track between the point where

PA NEWC OBSERVES

Election boards in the city of New Castle responded nicely to the request for cooperation in getting election returns to the public, through The News last night. Some of the county precincts also turned in their returns in good time.

The steady downpour of rain most all evening Tuesday made watching the returns at The News quite a task . Despite the rain, however, a large crowd stayed throughout the evening, many holding umbrellas as they watched the returns being flashed on the screen.

There was a deluge of votes for Roosevelt, and a deluge of rain for the rest of the country. One of the heaviest downpours of the year occurred during the night, the rain coming down unceasingly for more than twelve hours. It failed to dampen the ardor of the great crowd which thronged Mercer street, watching the returns flashed on the screen by The News, and lusty cheers greeted each new bulletin which showed that Roosevelt was winning in almost every state.

It seemed strange that so many "homes on wheels" would appear on a day like today. Yet Pa Newc saw five trailers downtown within five minutes' time—one was a huge trailer and had heating equipment in operation.

Governor Landon Deeply Disappointed

By KENNETH T. DOWNS
International News Service Staff Correspondent

TOPEKA, Kas., Nov. 4.—Though stunned and deeply disappointed, Governor Alfred M. Landon today was a gracious and philosophical loser in the costliest and hardest-fought presidential election in American history.

So sincerely convinced was he that he was going to be elected that it was not until early this morning that he conceded defeat, hours after his staunchest supporters had formally acknowledged President Roosevelt's re-election.

At 12:35 a. m. today, he sent the following telegram of congratulations to the president at Hyde Park, N. Y.:

"The nation has spoken. Every American will accept the verdict and work for the common cause of the good of our country. That is the spirti of democracy. You have my sincere congratulations."

Signed (Alf M. Landon).

Democrats Win All Contests In Lawrence County

Roosevelt Carries County By Approximately 6,500 Majority

HUGE VOTE CAST IN CITY-COUNTY

Congressional And State Senate Total Vote Exceeds All Records

Like most of the other counties of Pennsylvania, Lawrence County was engulfed by the Roosevelt landslide on Tuesday, November 3, and every Democratic candidate on the ticket carried through. The Democratic majority in the city and county amounts to approximately 6500, varying with the offices. Elected in the landslide were a Democratic congressman, a state senator and two members of the General Assembly.

President Franklin D. Roosevelt piled up a majority far beyond the hopes of the Democratic chieftains here. His vote in the 92 precincts of the county, complete, is 22,056, Governor Alf M. Landon, 15,471. Most of the Roosevelt majority was amassed in the city, the industrial districts giving him a tremendous

(Special To The News)

CINCINNATI, Nov. 4. — When anyone has seen as many elections as I have, the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November in the even numbered years brings a flock of memories.

No matter how deeply concerned one may be with the issues there is, of course, nothing like the ferver one feels when father, husband, or brother is a candidate. The first election that left a vivid impression was when my father ran for governor of New York in 1898. There was no telephone in our house at Oyster Bay, and the news was brought up from the village telegraph office by a messenger with horse and buggy. As I listen to radio returns of the present election, I shall be remembering that November evening and a succession of others from then to now, particularly the one in 1912, when Alfred Landon and Frank Knox were with my father in that most exciting of all elections.

Top Heavy Control Of Congress Is Retained By Administration

By WILLIAM S. NEAL
International News Service Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—A tremendous majority in the National House of Representatives—in which all of the big appropriation tax and tariff bills must start—was assured President Roosevelt today.

So consistently did the congressional tide flow with the presidential torrent that incomplete returns indicated that the present lop-sided Democratic lead in the House may be increased.

The Democrats were assured of 258 seats to 27 for the Republicans on the basis of early tabulations, with Democrats leading in many of the 150 districts where returns were far from complete.

Predictions Smashed

All Republican predictions were smashed into bits while many Democratic leaders, who had privately conceded the loss of many seats, appeared to have underestimated the Rooseveltian tide. The House standing before the election was: Demo-

COMMAND LEAD OF OVER 300,000

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 4.—Riding the mighty Roosevelt political wave, the Democratic candidates for the commonwealth's two fiscal offices today were leading their Republican rivals by better than 300,000 votes.

The offices of state treasurer and auditor general, held by Republicans for the past 30 years, are the last offices on Capitol Hill held by the G. O. P.

Unofficial tabulation of returns from 4,883 of the state's 8012 precincts gave F. Clair Ross, Democrat, of Butler a plurality of 328,463 in his fight for state treasurer against Frank L. Pinola, Republican, of Pittston. The vote was Ross 1,461,424; Pinola 1,132,961.

NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—Shattering all records, the Democratic party today had elected the greatest partisan majority in the history of the United States senate.

With a net gain of four Democratic togas, the new senate apparently will line up January 3:

75 Democrats; 18 Republicans; 2 Farmer-Laborites; 1 Progressive and 1 Independent.

Two years ago, after another precedent-shattering Democratic victory, it lined up:

69 Democrats; 25 Republicans; 1 Farmer-Laborite and 1 Progressive.

The Republicans appeared to have won only seven out of thirty-seven senatorial contests in yesterday's national election. The Democrats took 27 contests on returns to date, with one Independent winning

(International News Service)

PORTLAND, Me., Nov. 4.—The prestige of the Pine Tree state as a presidential "barometer" proved a myth for the third time in recent years today as Maine gave its five electoral votes to Gov. Alfred M. Landon by a 40,000 plurality.

Maine's electorate of more than 300,000 voted merely to register their preference for President. All their state officers were elected last September, when a United States senator and three congressmen—all Republicans—were chosen.

VICTORY LUNCHEON IS BEING PLANNED

By GEORGE DURNO

HYDE PARK, N. Y., Nov. 4.—President Roosevelt slept late this morning after having been returned to the White House by another overwhelming mandate.

His plans for today were somewhat indefinite. It was understood the president had planned a "victory" luncheon at his Hyde Park home for those he felt had contributed to the success of his campaign. The guest list was unavailable momentarily, however.

Final Concession

Final concession of a lost campaign reached the Hudson river estate shortly after 2 o'clock this morning.

In kind words, Gov. Alfred M. Landon wired from Topeka that: "The nation has spoken. Every American will accept the verdict and work for the common cause of the good of our country. That is the spirit of democracy. You have my sincere congratulations."

New Hampshire Goes Democratic

CONCORD, N. H., Nov. 4.—New Hampshire today stood in the national Democratic column for the first time since 1916.

With the Granite State vote complete, except one ward in Dover and the town of Claremont, normally a Democratic community, the vote for president was:

Roosevelt, 102,714; Landon, 100,859.

State's Electoral Votes Democratic First Time In Eighty Years

By J. WILLIAM THEIS
International News Service Staff Correspondent

HARRISBURG, Nov. 4—Pennsylvania's 36 electoral votes were irrefutably written into the Demoratic column today for the first time in 80 years as nearly complete returns gave the Keystone State to President Franklin D. Roosevelt by a majority of more than 600,000 votes.

In Pennsylvania, as it appeared in every other state but three, Gov. Alfred M. Landon's candidacy was rejected with an emphasis that could not be denied.

This once rock-ribbed Republican commonwealth not only placed its stamp of approval on continuation of the present administration's policies in the White House, but carried the decision further by:

Giving 26 Democratic congressional candidates leads that appeared to assure their sitting in the 75th session of the national house of representatives. Eight Republicans were indicated as elected where formerly they held 11 posts.

Roosevelt Wins New York State By Over Million

Amazing Margin Of 1,356,458 For President Roosevelt In New York City

LEHMAN ELECTED TO THIRD TERM

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—President Franklin D. Roosevelt has carried his home state by more than a million votes, doubling his own 1932 record and sweeping state and congressional candidates to victory in his wake.

Complete returns from 8,226 of New York's 8,950 election districts gave Roosevelt a plurality of 1,176,227 over Governor Landon, compared to his 596,996 margin over Hoover four years ago. The vote:

Roosevelt, 3,161,438; Landon, 1,985,211.

All of the missing districts are upstate, but even their expected Republican majorities are not likely to cut the Roosevelt plurality below the million mark.

Amazing Margin

The president carried New York City by the amazing margin of 1,356,458, while Landon, in the upstate districts reported, eked out a

Election Is Taken By New Dealers As Vote Of Confidence

By GEORGE R. HOLMES
International News Service Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—The amazing sweep of the Roosevelt landslide continued to expand today as belated returns put all but two states—Maine and Vermont—in the Democratic column, giving the new deal a fresh vote of confidence from the electorate such as no government in American history has ever enjoyed.

Kansas and New Hampshire wobbled about in uncertainty during the night, but this morning they flopped over definitely into the Roosevelt ranks. Gov. Alfred M. Landon lost his own state by more than 20,000 votes on latest returns, while New Hampshire went Democratic by the narrow margin of a few thousand.

Gets 523 Electoral Votes

This gives President Roosevelt a record-shattering electoral vote of 523 out of a possible 531 in the electoral college, which surpasses his 1932 mark of 472.

Slower in compilation, it seemed probable that Mr. Roosevelt's popular majority would be in the neighborhood of 9,000,000—also an all time record high—in a total vote that was the largest in history. Of the 55,000,000 (approximately) who registered, upward of 50,000,000 car-

Far West Piles Up Large Vote For Roosevelt

(International News Service)

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 4.—Leading the far western parade into the Roosevelt column, California today continued piling up ballots for the president to the point where his victory over Gov. Landon was disclosed as more convincing than his margin over Hoover in 1932.

A count in 8,720 precincts, some incomplete, of the golden state's 11,716 showed: Roosevelt, 1,051,463; Landon, 481,241.

In 1932 the total Roosevelt vote in California was 1,324,157 while Hoover tallied 847,902.

The story in California was repeated in effect in the other Pacific slope commonwealths—Oregon, Washington, Idaho, Nevada and Arizona. They went for the president in no uncertain terms by a ratio of 2 to 1 and even approaching 3 to 1.

The boys are gathered round today to tell you what is what, just how the whole thing happened, why their wards were cool or hot. And the lodge is now in session, in the "I told you so degree" but I am no member of it, for the way it seems to me, is that when the votes are counted, then the score is in and so, it is foolish and most useless to squawk out "I told you so". Here's a cheer for all the winners, and a tear for those who lost, for there can't be only winners, and no matter what the cost, it is over, it is finished, let's have nothing more to say, let's get back to work in earnest, weather's ?? today.

DEMOCRATS GAIN IN STATE

Likely To Have 27 Congressmen

Largest Number For Party In Entire History Of Pennsylvania

MANY INCUMBENTS LOSE TUESDAY BATTLE

By FREDERICK N. POLANGIN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

HARRISBURG, Nov. 4.—A congressional delegation of 27 Democrats—largest number in the commonwealth's history—and seven Republicans appeared likely for Pennsylvania today.

And the lineup may be 28 to 6, for in the 20th district, comprising Clarion, Elk, Forest, Mercer, Venango and Warren counties, Congressman Dennis J. Driscoll, Democratic incumbent, was making a gallant last minute effort to overtake his Republican rival, Benjamin Jarrett, who was leading by a few hundred votes.

Driscoll exposed the "fake" telegram scandal during the investigation of lobby activities in connection with the Wheeler-Reyburn utility holding bill. National interest, and significance, was centered on the district's fight, which is not expected to be settled until the last precinct turns in its tally.

Contest Is "Dud"

Another contest, in the 11th district, which was expected to be of the explosive variety, proved a dud. There, in Lackawanna county, Patrick J. Boland, Democratic whip who is being groomed for floor leadership, enjoyed a "walk-away" victory over his Republican rival, John J. Owens, backed by Father Charles E. Coughlin and his National Union for Social Justice.

The last delegation to the national lower chamber consisted of 23 Democrats and 11 Republicans.

Many incumbents, mostly Republicans, fell by the wayside as the Roosevelt landslide exploded the "rock-ribbed Republican Pennsylvania" tradition yesterday.

In Philadelphia alone, four Republican incumbents, William H. Wilson, Harry C. Ransley, Clare Gerald Fenerty and George Darrow, lost out as the Quaker City joined the Democratic bandwagon. Two other G. O. P. representatives, C. Murry Turpin, Luzerne county, and Isaac H. Doutrich, Harrisburg, gave way to Democratic rivals.

Only one Democratic incumbent, C. Elmer Dietrich, of Wyoming county, appeared to have lost out. His seat for the 15th district went to Albert G. Rutherford, of Honesdale, according to incomplete returns.

The Democrats captured all five seats in Allegheny county.

Although some of the contests were close—for the most part they were overshadowed by the presidential election — the Roosevelt landslide had a telling effect on a majority of the contests.

Greece had as many as 250 colonies in the year 600 B. C.

Vermont Remains In G. O. P. Column

Three Electoral Votes Go To Governor Alfred M. Landon

(International News Service)

MONTPELIER, Vt., Nov. 4.—Native state of the late President Calvin Coolidge, Vermont today remained unflinchingly in the Republican column, following an unprecedented vote.

Its three presidential electoral votes went to Gov. Alfred M. Landon. A Republican governor, congressman and state slate were elected, the complete vote showed.

President Roosevelt polled an unprecedented Democratic total of 61,198 votes against 79,981 for Governor Landon.

ministration control of the state senate as well as the house of representatives it has dominated since 1934.

With only 936 precincts of the state's 8,012 yet to report, the vote was 2,129,463 for Roosevelt, 1,518,278 for Landon—a lead of 611,185 for the chief executive.

Sweep In Philadelphia

The landslide swept both Pittsburgh and Philadelphia, smashing for the first time in Republican history the famed political machine that had ruled from the eastern metropolis.

Philadelphia, almost unbelievably, gave President Roosevelt a plurality of 199,712, while Allegheny county stepped up its 1932 plurality of 37,500 to as yet incomplete 180,164.

Pennsylvania last gave its electoral votes to a Democratic presidential candidate in 1856. And then it was supporting James Buchanan, a native son.

Although odd scattered thousands of the state's vote was yet to come in from rural districts, it appeared that only a mere handful of the 67 counties had "gone for Landon." The Democratic achievement in this respect was the more impressive in view of the president's winning of only 26 counties in the 1932 election. In that year President Herbert Hoover, losing the nation, carried Pennsylvania by 157,592 votes.

Even the early morning prediction of Democratic State Chairman David L. Lawrence that President Roosevelt's majority "will probably reach 500,000" was surpassed. Hailing the victory, Lawrence said:

Lawrence's Statement

"The magnificent Democratic victory in Pennsylvania is a further endorsement of President Roosevelt and the New Deal, and a complete vindication of Gov. George H. Earle and the policies of his administration."

Three of the state senate's "big five" Republican leaders—Senators James J. Coyne, Allegheny; John J. McClure, Delaware, and George L. Reed, Dauphin—were carried out of office by the Democratic sweep.

All three had been targets of Gov. George H. Earle and his administration's campaigners since the Democrats gained power in 1934. They went down to defeat defending their opposition to Earle administration tax and reform legislation—legislation that had been blocked time after time in the Republican-controlled upper branch.

Even in Bucks county—domain of former U. S. Senator Joseph R. Grundy, reputedly the "power behind the throne" of Pennsylvania Republicanism—conceded to President Roosevelt, by a scant margin. Unofficial returns in the county gave the president 24,238 to Landon's 24,035.

Decisive majorities also carried Senator Warren R. Roberts, Bethlehem, into the office of state auditor general and his Democratic colleague, F. Clair Ross, Butler, into the state treasurer's post. The decision in this contest completed the Earle administration's band of governmental control.

Hot congressional fights throughout the state were topped by those in the 11th and 20th districts. Rep. Patrick J. Boland, Scranton Democrat and whip in the lower national house, won easily over John J. Owens, his Republican opponent. In the 20th district, however, Rep. Dennis J. Driscoll, St. Marys, was running a close race in the tabulation of votes against former Congressman Benjamin Jarrett, of Farrell, Republican.

THE ELECTION RESULT

ONCE again the citizens of the United States have selected their president and President Franklin D. Roosevelt has been re-elected. His election was by such an overwhelming vote that there is no mistaking the choice of the people.

What some of us desired before Tuesday's elections is of slight importance now. The people have spoken and the answer is Roosevelt. Those of us who favored the election of Governor Alfred M. Landon did so because we honestly believed a change was necessary in the government. The people have preponderantly said they desire no change and under our American system of government the majority rules.

We are all Americans. Over and above our personal political desires is the good of the nation. Never in the history of the United States has there been such a need for patriotic devotion to American ideals. One way of expressing that patriotism is by abiding by the decision of the voters on Tuesday and lending our efforts towards a better government.

Our weapon in America is the ballot. The ballots have been cast, the decision has been made. We sincerely hope that President Roosevelt will be guided in his coming four years by ideals and ideas that have for their goal the betterment of these United States.

FARMING THRIVES IN PENN'S WOODS

Although William Penn was too occupied with other interests to give much heed to his father's Irish estates, of which the young man was for a time supervisor, it would probably please the reformer-statesman today to be reassured that Pennsylvania, once his own colony, is still primarily an agricultural commonwealth.

The latest census shows that Pennsylvania's 172,419 farms valued at $1,502,569,887 are still worth more than any other industry within her borders, although the state continues to lead all others in mineral production.

Elections come and elections go, but the great fundamentals which have made Pennsylvania a robust, independent, self-sustaining and powerful commonwealth are steadfast.

PRIVATE LIFE OF A KING

Again and again Edward has stressed his right to private happiness. He has made it clear that his life as King Edward belongs to his people but that his own life, when duties or affairs of state are done, belongs to himself alone.

This is a theory that has been held by many men and women who, through personal achievements or circumstances of birth, have come to occupy positions which subject them to the merciless and constant scrutiny of the press, which is not always considerate, and the public, which is not invariably sympathetic and understanding.

Some there are who accept this condition philosophically as one of the less pleasant aspects of distinction. Others grow resentful and bitter, as in the case of Colonel Lindbergh, and resist with determination the invasion of their right of privacy.

A king, as a matter of reality, has no private life and it is possible to make out a strong case in support of the position that he should have none. A king is something more than a political leader. He is a symbol of the nation's ideals, the source from which subjects hope to catch their inspiration and who is expected to set the tone of manners.

A king, fairly or otherwise, belongs to his people, and his conduct, official and domestic, is a matter of quite legitimate interest to them. Royalty is not maintained by nations for the practical services which its members give in behalf of public welfare. The ladies and gentlemen born to the purple are primarily ornamental and they lose this status, of course, when their frailties become excessively conspicuous.

HIGHWAY MORTALITY

If the present trend continues during the remainder of the year, approximately 40,000 persons will be killed in automobile accidents on the highways of the United States during 1936. This is a shocking price to pay for the conveniences and the comforts of motor travel and the record is one to cause some measure of discouragement, in view of the energy with which the nation-wide drive to save life on the highways has been directed.

The report of the National Safety Council on the nation's total of deaths in motor vehicle accidents for the first nine months of the year shows a slight increase over the same period in the preceding year. There is in prospect an all-time record for the full year.

The increase is not great, however, in view of the fact that the comparison with last year does not take into account that American car operators during these nine months drove fifteen billion more miles and with each additional mile driven there were increased opportunities for accidents.

The fight for highway safety makes discouragingly slow progress. Nevertheless, the objective is vital and it should go ahead.

When sillier political speeches are made, Harold L. Ickes will make them.

Borah, reports from Idaho indicate, put up a great fight—for Borah.

You can still tell a well-bred lady. She never shoots her husband unless she is drunk.

World War leaders on both sides were a weak lot, with the exception of Lloyd George, who recommends himself highly in his memoirs.

Oscillate And Live Long.

Earth's Champion Hen.

Mussolini's Definition.

By ARTHUR BRISBANE

DR. KATSUZO NISHI, said to give health advice to the Japanese imperial family, advises those that would live to 120:

'Lie on your back and oscillate the whole body as a fish might."

The learned Japanese also advises a flat, hard bed, sleeping on the back with the head on a hard, rounded pillow.

Americans like a goldfish would tell the learned Japanese scientist that they never heard of any Japanese living to 120, or a goldfish either. The average busy man would rather live a reasonable length of time, say 100 years, and leave oscillating to goldfish and others that have time for it.

NEWS FROM Japan more important than the memorial service for the souls of dead oysters, or the advice of the Japanese Doctor Katsuzo Nishi to "lie on your back and oscillate the body as a goldfish might."

The big news is that Japan has the champion egg-laying leghorn hen of the whole world, property of a Japanese farmer, Kichi Fujikura. The marvelous hen laid 361 eggs in 12 hours less than 365 days. A United States leghorn hen in 1934-1935 laid 360 eggs at Corvallis, Ore., and our federal experts refuse to accept the Japanese record, because it is not official.

That may annoy Farmer Kichi Fujikura, but not his hen.

IN AN IMPORTANT speech at Milan, Mussilini defines Bolshevism and Communism as follows:

"What is called Bolshevism and Communism is today—listen well to me—only supercapitalism of a state carried to its most ferocious extreme."

This makes the poor "supercapitalist" responsible for Stalin, whom he thought he hated.

THE LEAGUE OF NATIONS might as well be killed off, since it no longer means anything, says Mussolini, and adds:

"It is necessary to destroy everything built on Woodrow Wilson's ideologies."

If the late President Wilson reads newspapers where he is now, that

"HE TELLS ME EVERTHING"

WHAT WAS THAT you said, Mrs. Jones?

Please tell me again, so I can be certain my ears heard correctly.

You said you are happily married, and your husband tells you EVERTHING?

Yes, that's what I thought you said.

But, Mrs. Jones, something is wrong somewhere. . . Either you aren't happily married, or your husband does NOT tell you everything . . I assure you I'm no cynic but no two human beings can live happily together and tell each other EVERYTHING.

Don't get me wrong, Mrs. Jones. . . . I'm not arguing for mutual distrust in marriage. I'm not saying there is no happy marriage unless man and wife lie to each other. I'm merely saying that no two human beings can or should tell each other everything.

You must keep SOME of your thoughts to yourself. You can't say EVERYTHING that comes into your head. . .You must have some consideration for the other fellow. A wife must be on her husband's side. A husband must be on his wife's side. There must be confience ad trust and loyalty in marriage as in every other human relationship. . . But if you blab everything you know, if you put every though, every emotion, into words immediately, you set up needless strains and complications and make marriage unecessarily difficult.

Every good marriage has it proper restraints, its wise reticences and privacies. A marriage consists of two lives, not one. Two people carry common burdens and responsibilties together; but they continue to be separate individualities.

Do you understand what I'm getting at, Mrs. Jones? Yes, you do, but you still think it's mean of a husband not to tell his wife everything and you don't think much of a wife who keeps secrets from her husband. . . Well, perhaps you're "different". But I can see this argument isn't getting anywhere. . . So I'll stop first.

Dear Miss Markel: I was invited to a tea which I cannot attend. What kind of note should I send to the hostess? J. T.

Answer—A formal engraved invitation must be answered in the same form as the invitation itself—the third person:

Miss Janet Tilden regrets that she is unable to accept Mrs. James Montgomery's kind invitation for
Saturday the seventh of November

This regret must, of course, be written in ink, never typewritten.

If yours was an invitation by letter, you should write in the first person a short note expressing your regrets. If it was a visiting-card invitation it should be answered in the third person the same as an engraved invitation.

When accepting a very intimate friend's invitation you might send your visiting card in reply, with these words written in ink above your name: "I'll be there on Saturday at 4."

Dear Miss Markel: When a young woman goes to a tea in honor of two persons, how many cards should she leave? (2) When she goes to call on a young married couple (both being her intimate friends) how many cards should she leave? A. D.

Answer—If these "two persons" are women, leave three cards—one for each of these guests-of-honor and one for the hostess. If they are men, leave no cards for them—one for your hostess will be sufficient. (2) Leave one card for the hostess; none for the host. A woman should never at any time leave a card for a man.

The World At A Glance

Who Will Lead In Four Years.
Will New Party Absorb Dems.
Republicans To Stand Pat.

By LESLIE EICHEL
Central Press Staff Writer

DEMOCRATIC leaders have begun to wonder about 1940. Some Old Line Democrats believe that the New Deal will lead into an out-and-out Progressive movement, that the Progressives may absorb the Democratic party, and that the leading Progressive—whoever he will be—may be the 1940 nominee.

The Republican party is expected to remain as it is.

Offshots from both parties, such as the Coughlinites—which the Progressives term Fascists—are expected to continue. Some other violent exhorter, however, may succeed Coughlin. The newcomer may be still more violent.

In brief, will the Democratic party die, as did the Liberals in England, and its followers go over to a new Farmer-Labor coalition? In that event, conservative Democrats would go over to the Republican party.

Men have termed the 1936 campaign as one lacking in issues, but the issue has been very marked to students of politics. The dividing line has been cut keener and sharper, in their opinion, too sharp, in fact, for the average political leader, who retires from the 1936 campaign bewildered.

NEW FACTORS

So many new factors entered the campaign that time-tried factors not merely failed, but boomeranged.

Many employers in the industrial regions were not pleased with the nature of the Republican attacks on the social security bill. Tremendous publicity was given the fact that workers will pay a 1 per cent premium to the government on old age pensions. As a result, congressmen have been under pressure by labor to put the entire burden on employers. This is what labor desired originally. The Roosevelt bill was a compromise. Now the compromise may be wiped out. The political complexion of the congressmen makes no difference—the local pressure is there.

Besides, the very nature of the attack on the bill, through the pay envelope, aroused intense anger. A worker will read arguments in a newspaper, but any effort to reach him through the pay envelope usually has a contrary effect.

As for the money itself, it has to be deposited in the general fund. The constitution requires that all tax receipts go into a general fund. Collections for other obligations are made in the same manner. Collection for each purpose is put into a trust fund and is earmarked for the specific purpose for which it is intended.

The attacks on government credit, and the soundness of banks and insurance companies have not helped business.

Many businessmen believe that the Republican campaign, in some respects, stirred up antagonistic feelings rather than allayed them.

NOT DEAD

But the Republican party is not dead. Historical precedents indicate that it again will rise to challenging power, with the full weight of conservatism, and that the opposition will tend further and further to the left.

The 1940 campaign probably will be one of the bitterest in American history.

Belief exists in some important circles that although President Roosevelt may put through important legislation in behalf of labor during his second term, it may, in the end, be viewed by a farmer-labor coalition as "too conservative".

About 1938 they will begin to make that fact known. They may win some elections in 1938. They will offer constitutional amendments in behalf of workers and tenant farmers—and they believe that the states, backed by public pressure, will adopt them.

In the meantime, of course, the conservative coalition also will be growing and becoming better welded.

BOYHOOD AMBITIONS

When I was just a little lad it really seemed to me
A helmeted policeman I should like to grow to be,
That coat with shiny buttons was a dress I longed to wear
And regulate the traffic on some busy thoroughfare.
But all the dreams of boyhood seem to change from day to day.
My next choice was the postman in his uniform of gray.

One very chilly morning we were roused in scant attire.
The cause of the excitement was a neighbor's house on fire.
The blaze was unimportant, but it greatly altered me.
A hook and ladder driver I determined then to be;
But I found I thought it better, at the early age of four,
To run the elevator in a big department store.

One very pleasant summer I was taken on a trip
And gained a new ambition to be captain of a ship.
But later at a circus I was seized with the desire
To wear a cape of silver and do stunts upon a wire.
I caught the cowboy fever and in dreams I used to go
Across the plains sky-shootin' after herds of buffalo.

Oh you postman and policemen and you firemen rushing by,
I wonder are you conscious of the dreams that you supply.
Though at times you grow aweary of the tasks you daily meet,
Don't you sense the admiration of the children of the street?
Is it not a satisfaction? Oft this thought occurs to me,
To know you're being something that all youngsters long to be.

Shipping Finds Going Is Hard

American Vessels Are Retarded By Various Influences In Business

SUBSIDIZATION PROVES FAILURE

Central Press
Washington Bureau
602 Times-Herald Bldg.

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Staff Writer.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4. — The American mercantile marine has suffered from two influences.

In the first place, since the early clipper ship days, when Yankee craft were foremost on the oceans, inland development has offered larger rewards than foreign trade. Consequently national enterprise has turned inward rather than outward.

Secondly, America's system of high protective tariffs has made shipbuilding in the United States about 50 per cent more costly than abroad. American repairs have been correspondingly more expensive. And American sailors have been unavailable except at American rates of wages. All these charges have been so stiff that American merchant bottoms simply have not been able to compete with foreign lands' more cheaply built and operated vessels.

Protection will work within tariff walls, but not outside them, on the free seas.

WAR-TIME STATUS

Uncle Sam has, indeed, protected a little coastal shipping by prohibiting foreign craft from carrying freight or passengers between intra-American ports, but he has been powerless insofar as concerns international commerce. And coastal traffic has been insufficient to maintain a merchant marine of much consequence.

Thus, when the last war broke out, the United States practically had no mercantile fleet.

There was a tremendous overseas' demand for American goods, but no American ships to transport them. And the belligerents' ships, which previously had been doing the carrying, were too busy in the war zone to do the business.

Of course this situation was immensely aggravated when the United States entered the struggle.

American yards began shipbuilding at a fever heat, but a ship cannot be built in a minute. Nevertheless, a merchant fleet of considerable size but of poor quality was created.

With war ended, Americans realized that merchant vessels really are vitally important to a nation in an emergency; they can't always be hired from foreigners.

But the same old difficulty presented itself. A highly protected country cannot compete in the open, with the cheaper country.

In the matter of shipping, the protected country's only recourse, obviously, is to subsidize its fleet—to make up, by government grant, to the American shipowners, the differential between what they are penalized and the foreigners' advantage.

SUBSIDY FAILS

The government tried it.

Subsidization was attempted largely through contracts for mail carrying.

There were many cases in which the delivery of a letter under a 5-cent stamp to a foreign addressee was paid for at the rate of several thousands of dollars.

The subsidized folk were supposed to put their money into reconstruction, but did not do it—put it into operation instead.

There are stories, too, that they put some of it into their own pockets.

NO COMMISSION YET

Anyway, the American mercantile marine's status, by the reckoning of all experts, today is about down to its level of 1914, when it was nearly zero.

The last congress endeavored to bring it up to a safety figure.

Its aim was pretty honest.

It provided a commission of five members, to guarantee legitimate subsidies.

But President Roosevelt has not yet appointed the commission.

AROUND CITY HALL

Although all of the city officials were at their desks Tuesday there was little business between them and the public, most of the citizens being busy doing their chores or voting.

A squad of police was held in reserve at the city police station Tuesday for fear that their services might be needed at a voting booth. Men returned recently from the state police school made up the squad.

Mayor Charles E. McGrath in announcing that a motorcycle policeman would be assigned to duty made it plain that anyone caught driving recklessly or speeding could expect no leniency in police court.

It is not known when the next examination for police will be held. The list expired recently. However, before the list became one year old Mayor Charles E. McGrath selected a new policeman who will start work next year.

(International News Service)

TOPEKA, Kan., Nov. 4.—Governor Alfred M. Landon early today made public a telegram he had sent during the night to President Roosevelt congratulating him on his re-election.

"The nation has spoken. Every American will accept the verdict and work for the common cause for the good of our country. That is the spirit of democracy. You have my sincere congratulations."

Addressed to "The President, Hyde Park, N. Y.," the telegram was signed, "Alf M. Landon".

Pres. McKinley Was Studious, Quiet In Youth

"Girl Friend" Of Late President Gives Some Personal Recollections

(International News Service)

YOUNGSTOWN, O., Nov. 4.—Mrs. Annie Osborne, who was President William McKinley's first "girl friend," and one of Youngstown's most prominent residents, celebrated her 91st birthday anniversary by holding "open house" at her home, where she received hundreds of friends, relatives and well-wishers.

It was back in the period from 1855-61 when she and McKinley were attending Poland Academy at Poland, O., a suburb, that the youth who later was to become president of the United States had a date with the girl who later became Mrs. Osborne.

"A fine young gentlemen," she says of the boy McKinley. "He was a quiet, studious boy. He took me to the class dinner at the hotel, the big event of the year when oysters and celery were served—delicacies in those days."

She also recalls the time when young McKinley was judge of an essay contest, and selected her essay on "The Canteen" for first prize.

Mrs. Osborne can talk of Civil War days, too, when the boys in blue went away.

"Folks didn't take it so very seriously," she says. "We thought it would just be an over-night affair. But when they brought home the wounded and the dead, we knew what war meant."

Three times during her life, she has seen her friends go off to war—the Civil War, the Spanish-American War and the World War.

Mrs. Osborne has little use for idle persons, and her philosophy of life is:

"The best recipe for a long life is to be busy and you'll be happy, for the sun is always shining somewhere. There are storms in everyone's life, but there are roses also."

ROOSEVELT AT HYDE PARK HOME

"I am grateful for your generous telegram and I am confident that all of us Americans will now pull together for the common good. I send you every good wish."

Mr. Roosevelt planned to rest here in Hyde Park either until Thursday or Friday night. He has an engagement in Washington on Saturday, November 7, to unveil a memorial to Jules Jusserand, French ambassador to the United States for a quarter-century, during which the president as then assistant secretary of navy came in contact with the shrewd little Frenchman.

It was about two-thirty this morning when President Roosevelt finally retired.

Earlier, while the election returns were coming in, Mr. Roosevelt had received an enthusiastic demonstration in the driveway of his home from a crowd of Democratic supporters from his home township.

Appearing at 10:45 p. m., on the arm of his son, Franklin, Jr., with his mother, wife, adult children, other close relatives and intimate friends in his wake, Mr. Roosevelt said jovially:

"It looks as if we are going to have one of the greatest sweeps ever heard of in the history of the United States.

"It appears that this movement has extended into every section of the country . . . not only the south, but the Pacific coast, the central states, the east and New England.

"I hope in the next four years, with the worst of the emergency over, that I can spend a little more time in Hyde Park."

Following the president's return to Washington it was expected he would start almost immediately on a vacation cruise aboard naval vessel. He had intimated before election day it might carry him back to the Bahamas, where he spent his spring fishing trip, or off the Gulf of Mexico. There were reports also—but univerified—that he might cruise south to Rio De Janeiro on a good-will mission.

Thoughts of cruises failed to interest Mr. Roosevelt today, however. He had won a smashing victory and it was taking most of his time to answer the congratulations. Many were delivered in person. Thousands telegraphed in their approval.

CENTER CHURCH SOCIETY

The Ladies' Missionary society of Center church will meet Thursday, November 5, at the home of Mrs. William Zehner. Quilting will be the work of the day. A tureen dinner will be served at noon. Mrs. Barclay Gibson will lead the devotional services beginning at 2 p m Mrs. R. G. Gilfillan, Mrs. Howard Leslie and Mrs. M. Shaffer will present papers on the study book for the month.

TWO ARE KILLED AS FAST TRAIN STRIKES TRUCK

it was struck, just at the western end of the Harbor bridge and the point where engineer Roy A. Franklin brought his train to a stop. All that remained of the vehicle was the bent frame of the chassis.

Considering the speed at which he was traveling, Engineer Franklin, who resides at 704 North Cedar street, this city, made a record stop.

Took Bodies To Sharon

Ascertaining that the two young men were dead, members of the train crew took their bodies on to Sharon, where identification was later established, the body of Miller by officials of the baking company, and that of Patton through his automobile driver's license, and later by his employer, William D. Milsom, of the Boyles and Milsom Supply company.

Patton, it was stated, had been in the habit of riding with Miller on his rounds about the city, and this morning is said to have gone along to view the scene of a wreck which had occurred on the Youngstown road last night or this morning.

The truck was traveling east, enroute towards New Castle on what is known as the Pulaski road, while the train was traveling north towards Sharon, its destination.

Track Curves

The railroad track at this point curves in a northwesterly direction as it crosses the road, and then towards the east while the highway approaches at an angle toward the northeast, and it is believed that Miller failed to glance down the track in the direction from which the train was approaching. He would have a clear vision of the track to the north.

Railroad employes who were in the section house south of the scene of the wreck and residents of the immediate vicinity stated that the train whistled, and that the engineer blew his whistle frantically as he sensed the danger to the truck and its occupants, after which they heard the crash as the truck was struck and the grinding of the train's brakes.

Enroute To Sharon

The train was ten minutes late in arriving here, railroad officials stated, and left the station here about 8:41. It was the eastbound section of the Valley Special, operating between Mansfield, O., and Sharon, a new train just added last month by the railroad company.

In addition to Franklin, the engineer, the other members of the crew included E. S. Thellman, fireman, of this city, and Conductor Frank Hornichel, of Pittsburgh.

Patton's body was brought back to his home here early this afternoon by a local undertaker in preparation for burial.

Officials of the railroad company, Coroner Orville Potter and highway patrolmen, of this city, and Coroner Applegate, of Mercer county are investigating the circumstances.

Born In City

Claude Monroe Patton was born in New Castle, September 19, 1915, son of Claud Monroe Patton Sr., and Mollie Smith Patton. He was a member of the First Christian church and Sam Lewis' Bible class. He had been employed with the Boyles and Milsom Supply Co. for the past year and a half.

Yesterday, it was stated, he voted for the first time and was the first voter in his precinct to cast his ballot.

In addition to his parents, he leaves three sisters and a brother; Mrs. Robert Taft, of Pittsburgh; Rev. Herman Patton, of Charleston, W. Va.; Emma Patton, at home; and Mrs. Clinton Glenn, of the New Wilmington road.

The body will be brought to the Boyd Funeral home and announcement of the funeral arrangements will be made tomorrow.

HUGE MAJORITY IN U. S. CONGRESS FOR DEMOCRATS

crats 308; Republicans 100; Progressives, seven; Farmer-Labor, three; vacant 17.

The high hopes of Dr. Francis E. Townsend, old-age pension advocate, and Father Charles E. Coughlin, president of the National Union For Social Justice, of winning the balance of power in the House were dashed.

While faithful adherents of the powerful leaders of minority groups won seats in the house, they were elected either as Democrats or Republicans.

Several Movements Killed

The gigantic Democratic victory apparently killed, temporarily at least, the Townsend drive for $200-a-month pensions for those over 65, the Frazier-Lemke $3,000,000,000 farm inflation bill and Father Coughlin's Central Bank plan.

The nation-wide sweep, too, virtually assured Mr. Roosevelt a free hand in proposing relief appropriations, inaugurating new tax plans in carrying out other proposals. Some Democratic leaders, however, professed to believe that a smaller Democratic majority would bind party members closer to the administration.

Returns showed that the Republicans had definitely won three seats now held by Democrats, while the Democrats had ousted five Republicans.

What Literary Digest Editor Says Of Vote

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—Wilford J. Funk, editor of Literary Digest, whose poll indicated the election of Gov. Landon by a large majority: "We may not have reached a representative cross-section of the population in distributing the ballots. What we will do now is try to figure out what happened, as a guide to our future policy."

Believe Upward Business Trend Will Continue

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—Wall Street bankers and heads of investment houses today were practically unanimous in the opinion that business will carry its upward trend, little affected by the Roosevelt landslide.

The majority pointed out that economic and not political principles rule the course of business and finance and that the end of the campaign might well be the signal for a fresh impetus.

In general, financiers were astounded by the magnitude of the Roosevelt sweep.

crushing magnitude of the defeat, had so overwhelmed the members of the Landon camp that they still seemed to be moving in a world of unreality today.

Gov. Landon heard the first faint rumblings of the avalanche to come, yesterday afternoon aboard his "Sunflower Special" train as he was speeding back to Topeka from his home town, Independence, where he and his family had voted.

Before the train had slid into Topeka disquieting reports were sputtering over the train's radios to the effect that President Roosevelt was leading in the early returns from scattered Kansas precincts.

The governor and his advisers were astonished and a feeling of restlessness could be felt quite plainly. Yet there was no disposition to take these reports too seriously at that time.

ROOSEVELT WINS NEW YORK STATE BY OVER MILLION

majority of only 180,231. The complete New York City vote was:

Roosevelt, 2,016,204; Landon, 659,746.

Gov. Herbert H. Lehman, who was persuaded to abandon his retirement plans to "save" the state's 47 electoral votes for Roosevelt, was reelected to a third term by about 500,000 votes, but political leaders are astonished by his failure to come within half a million votes of the Roosevelt plurality.

With only 74 upstate districts missing, Lehman led Judge William F. Bleakley, Republican gubernatorial nominee by 644,789. This is expected to be whittled down when full upstate returns are reported.

Still, if middle-aged cows took violent exercise in an effort to be young again, they would have heart trouble, too.

Ross and Roberts

For state treasurer Deputy Attorney General F. Clair Ross (D) of Butler, Pa., polled 20,785 votes as against 15,615 for Attorney Frank L. Pinola (R) of Luzerne county. Mr. Ross is an ex-service man, just as Pinola is. Ross has been the district commander of the American Legion, while Pinola has been the state commander of the same organization.

For auditor-general State Senator Warren R. Roberts (D) of Northampton county ran along with Ross. Roberts polled 20,676 votes as against 15,474 for E. Arthur Sweeny (R), Greensburg newspaper publisher.

For Congress

For Congress, Charles R. Eckert, present incumbent of Beaver county, won by a heavy majority over Attorney Orville Brown (R) of New Castle, due to the tremendous lead given Eckert by his home county. Eckert's total for the 26th district, comprising Lawrence, Beaver and Butler counties, is 71,440 as against 51,725. These totals are divided as follows:

Lawrence county, 92 precincts complete, Brown 16,071, Eckert 20,676. Beaver county, 105 precincts complete, Brown 20,293, Eckert 36,699. Butler, 77 out of 85 precincts, Brown 15,361, Eckert 14,910. Brown has a slight lead in Butler county and Eckert carried Lawrence and Beaver counties. Attorney Edwin F. G. Harper of New Castle, running on the Townsend recovery policy, polled 1,166 votes in Lawrence county, with no returns available for the other counties.

State Senate

Assemblyman William J. Eroe, Jr., New Castle, D., was returned a winner over the present Republican incumbent, Alonzo S. Batchelor of Monaca by nearly 22,000 votes. In the 47th senatorial district comprising Lawrence and Beaver counties, Eroe polled 57,515 votes with all precincts returned. Senator Batchelor polled 35,839 votes. They are divided as follows. Lawrence county, Eroe, 21,062, Batchelor, 15,194. Beaver county, Eroe 36,453, Batchelor 21,062. Eroe has served in the general assembly from New Castle in the past two regular sessions.

Legislature

Both Democratic candidates won for the general assembly from Lawrence county. In the City of New Castle, T. Wilber McCullough, Republican candidate, was defeated by Carmi G. Preston, Democrat. With all 35 precincts in, Preston has 10,533 votes and McCullough 7,657. McCullough lead the Republican ticket in New Castle but could not overcome the tremendous majorities given Preston in the south side precincts.

Mr. Preston is the youngest member to be elected to the general assembly from New Castle in many years. He is not married and resides with his father on Highland avenue. Some years ago he was a star backfield man for the New Castle high school football team.

In the second district of the county the present incumbent, James B. Kelso, D., was re-elected by about 1,700 majority. His total for the 57 county precincts is 10,178 and W. Sharp Fullerton, his Republican opponent, 8,362. Kelso's victory was assured through the Roosevelt landslide in Ellwood City. In the strictly rural districts Fullerton ran ahead of Kelso. Both are residents of North Beaver township and are relatives.

Straight Ballots

It was an unusual election not only in the county but in the state. The straight ballots for both parties was amazing. It is estimated that 85 percent of the ballots were cast straight for either Republican or Democratic tickets. This made the work of the election boards much lighter than it ordinarily is.

The smashing victory of the Democratic ticket in Pennsylvania means that this party now becomes the first party on the ballot, for the first time since the Republican party was organized before the Civil war. Never before has the state gone Democratic in a national election although in 1912 it went for Theodore Roosevelt on the Bull Moose progressive ticket.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—
Without Calomel—And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go
The liver should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas bloats up your stomach. You get constipated. Your whole system is poisoned and you feel sour, sunk and the world looks punk.
Laxatives are only makeshifts. A mere bowel movement doesn't get at the cause. It takes those good, old Carter's Little Liver Pills to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up". Harmless, gentle, yet amazing in making bile flow freely. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name. Stubbornly refuse anything else. 25c.

Farley Happy Over Victory

IS JUBILANT AS PRESIDENT WINS

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—"The American people are to be congratulated on the result of today's election." James Farley, chairman of the Democratic National Committee declared at a press conference shortly after 11 o'clock last night when he was assured that President Roosevelt had been elected by an overwhelming majority.

Farley said he would not issue a formal statement until after President Roosevelt had received word from Governor Alfred M. Landon. Up to this hour, the president had received no communication from the Republican presidential candidate.

Farley's statement follows:

"Tonight's victory is not a partisan triumph. Though the election was won under the Democratic banner, the size of the majorities, both the popular and the electoral college majority, makes it very plain that it was principle and not party that was sustained in today's voting.

"After today I do not think that anybody will doubt the spirit of liberalism that actuated our citizens. The result is no surprise. It was unthinkable that a President whose wisdom and whose policies, whose courage and steadfastness of purpose had lifted the nation out of the depths of the depression and started it to a prosperity that was the envy of all the world should not have been sustained and applauded by the people whose economic salvation was affected through his captaincy of the forces of government.

"We may now look forward to four years of uninterrupted effort to accomplish the completion of economic recovery, of industrial welfare, and of the permanent establishment of real liberty in the United States.

"I have an idea that the people who so viciously assailed the President during the campaign, who called him a communist, a would-be dictator, an enemy of business, are now rather ashamed of the bitterness they brought into the campaign. For myself, I hope these attacks will be forgotten. I am sure that the President entertains no bitterness even to those who in the fury of political struggle so grossly assailed him. He realizes, I feel justified in stating, that he is more than ever the President of all the people, for all the people contributed to the splendid endorsement he has received.

"No American need have any fear of the future. Franklin D. Roosevelt's mission is to see that all of us have a square deal. No individual and no corporation that is on the level with the people has any cause to dread Mr. Roosevelt's second term. Anything to the contrary that was voiced in the fury of the campaign with the idea of frightening the people away from their President was absurd when it was spoken or written, and is more absurd today I know that all who hear these words will join me in the hope that the scars of this great political battle will soon be healed Nobody on our side of the fence has any thought or reprisal or oppression.

"With the united people working with him, the President of the United States will complete the job of making this a happier, richer, freer country than it was before

"Naturally the result of the election is a source of deep satisfaction, but I think all of us realize that it was less a triumph for Roosevelt and Garner than it was for the people of our country. It is to their clearness of vision, their perception of the rights and wrongs that were the issues, that America is now set on a course that will not only clear up the depression distress, but will make such miseries impossible in the future."

State Victory Makes History

Pennsylvania Goes For Democratic President First Time In 80 Years

By J. WILLIAM THEIS
International News Service Staff Correspondent

HARRISBURG, Nov. 4.—Political history paralleling that of the Democratic gubernatorial sweep in 1934 was made in Pennsylvania as incomplete returns last night gave President Roosevelt an approximate lead of 200,000 over Gov. Alfred M Landon.

The extent of the Roosevelt vote tide was indicated when Edwin R. Cox, Republican Philadelphia city chairman, conceded traditionally Republican Philadelphia to the Democrats.

Rural counties, mostly in agricultural central Pennsylvania, remained the sole hope of anything like an "old-time" Republican vote.

With more than one-fourth of the state's 8,012 precincts reported, even such Republican strongholds as Lancaster and Montgomery counties were adding to the Roosevelt plurality.

President Roosevelt's winning of Pennsylvania's 36 electoral votes would make election history that had not been recorded in the Keystone state in 80 years. The state last gave its majority to a Democratic presidential candidate in 1856, when it supported James Buchanan, a native son.

Democratic candidates for state fiscal offices now held by two Republicans rode ahead with leads of roughly 50,000, while gains were indicated for state legislative posts.

West Virginia Is Democratic By Wide Margin

(International News Service)

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Nov. 4—West Virginia today reaffirmed its democracy by one of the most sweeping landslides in the state's history. With 2,000 of the 2,357 precincts counted, President Roosevelt led Gov. Alfred M. Landon, 387,857 to 279,167. Four years ago Mr. Roosevelt carried the state by 74,300.

U. S. Senator M. M. Neely (D) brushed aside the opposition of his youthful Democratic colleague, Senator Rush Holt, to far outdistance Hugh Ike Shott, Bluefield publisher, and the Republican nominee. In 2,000 precincts Neely had 378,241 and Shott 277,887.

Homer A. Holt (D), was elected governor over Judge Summers Sharp (R), and each of the six incumbent Democratic congressmen appeared safe for another two years.

Election Night Party Attended By Large Crowd

Members Of Valley Of New Castle Consistory And Friends Are Entertained

With an attendance of 350, the annual election night party of the Valley of New Castle Consistory, A. A. S. R., proved a delightful occasion last evening, and a pleasant evening of entertainment was provided at The Cathedral.

Following the dinner at 6:30 the guests were entertained by Ted Shawn and his dancers, and there was dancing and cards later in the evening. The election results, obtained by radio and telegraph were announced to the crowd at intervals, keeping them in touch with conditions, and while the weather outside was anything but pleasant, it did not mar the enjoyment of those indoors.

The next party planned by the entertainment committee is a Thanksgiving party on Friday evening, December 4.

The guests paid honor to W. O. "Red" Williams, who has been the pep song leader at Masonic functions here for the past 12 years, and who is leaving next week for Greene county, where he expects to locate. Those present gave him a rising vote of thanks for his services of the past.

Republicans Still Hopeful In New Jersey

(International News Service)

TRENTON, N. J., Nov. 4.—Despite President Roosevelt's plurality of 233,523 on the basis of returns from more than half of New Jersey's 3,581 election districts, Republican leaders today refused to concede Gov. Alfred M. Landon's defeat in this state.

Trailing by more than 125,000 votes, U. S. Senator W. Warren Barbour (R) conceded his defeat by Democratic William H. Smathers.

Returns from 1,918 precincts showed: Roosevelt 562,706; Landon 329,183; Smathers 460,118; Barbour 333,542.

The apparent Democratic landslide endangered six congressional seats held by Republicans while G. O. P. incumbents were being pushed in three other districts. Republican incumbents trailed in the second, fifth, sixth, tenth, eleventh, and twelfth districts.

Only one Democratic congressman, Edward A. Kenny, in the ninth was trailing Lawrence A. Cavinto (R).

Michigan Gives Roosevelt Lead Of 200,000 Votes

(International News Service)

DETROIT, Nov. 4.—The New Deal dealt a devastating blow to Michigan Republicans today as returns from more than half of the state showed President Roosevelt heading for a plurality expected to go above the 200,000 mark.

With the big industrial Detroit vote still uncoutned, 1,995 out of 3,470 precincts gave Roosevelt 542,288, Landon 382,362.

Frank Murphy, the president's close friend, held a substantial lead over Gov. Frank D. Fitzgerland (R) for the governorship.

HELPFUL ADVICE TO ACNE SUFFERERS

For acne pimples affecting the outer or surface layer of the skin, here is advice that will help improve your complexion.

Every night at bedtime, wash your face thoroughly with Resinol Soap and hot water. Do not rub. Follow with a dash of cold water and dry thoroughly but gently. Then apply Resinol Ointment to the affected skin and leave it on all night. Do this every night, and watch the improvement.

Local treatment is advised as a helpful aid in acne cases, and for more than 40 years the ingredients of Resinol have been found effective.

Resinol benefits by treating the irritated oil ducts, where most surface pimples start. In this way it aids healing of such pimples and also tends to check their recurrence.

Buy Resinol Ointment and Soap in any drug store. For free sample, write to Resinol, Dept. 13, Baltimore, Md.

Chicago-Denver Run To Get New Streamline Train

American Railroads Adopting New Style Trains For Speed

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA—Now it's the streamline train of lighter weight, greater speed and more luxury.

Proof that American railroads are striving for swifter and more comfortable service in cars of this advanced design was seen in the departure from this city of ten cars of the longest streamlined train in the world.

The train, made up of lightweight, stainless steel Zephyrs and built by the Edward G. Budd Manufacturing company for the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy railroad, will be operated in the over-night service between Chicago and Denver. It goes into service November 8 and will be drawn by two Diesel power-cars.

The train was built to cruise at speeds of 90 to 100 miles an hour and will average 66 miles an hour, including stops over the more than 1,000 miles between Chicago and Denver. Another train of similar construction and length is being built for the same road.

Edward G. Budd, president of the company, announced that the 20 Philadelphia-built Zephyrs already constructed will be followed shortly by two six-car trains for the Burlington and a mine-car train for the Santa Fe. In addition to these, he said, the company has orders for 41 cars.

"Trains such as these, capable of making 1,000 miles over-night without loss of any time from business, are what the railroads have been coming to," explained Budd.

QUIET DAY AT POLLS

will surprise him; when he was in Europe many Italians were taking down their pictures of Garibaldi, substituting photographs of Woodrow Wilson.

OF MANY admirable things said in the churches last Sunday, the best was said by the Rev. Hubert Stanley Wood, suggesting that churches stop calling themselves church of the "Heavenly Rest" and substitute "ACTION" for "Rest."

"God does not like dead-heads", said the reverend gentleman, "there's got to be life, energy and progress."

Most true today, with movies and radio competing.

A SAD accident that cost the life of a six-months-old baby should be mentioned to warn fathers and mothers. In the evening Mrs. Klein went to a moving picture; Mr. Klein, who had worked hard all day, sat in an arm chair. The baby cried, the father put it beside him in the chair, went to sleep, leaned over the baby and smothered it.

In England formerly there were many dead babies called "over-laid babies," because fathers and mothers took them in beds and rolled on them in their sleep.

Less drunkenness has meant fewer "over-laid" babies.

THE YOUNG English king continues to show interest in a class of Englishmen that have interested other English kings but little. Determined to see for himself what kind of human beings are his subjects, this month he will visit the "distressed areas" of South Wales, particularly mining districts, where suffering is greatest.

crowning glory is its ribbon through the Redwoods. Traveling from North to South, you will come upon these giants suddenly. Leaving Crescent City, California, the road runs quietly along the water and then a turn and you enter the nave of a magnificent Cathedral. All is quiet there. Even the speeding motorist slows down. The truckmen who pass through the forest day after day stills the pounding of his engine as he enters this great abbey, and you as a sight-seer pull off into the first wide spot on the highway and look and listen in awe.

The great trunks of these old fellows rise to majestic heights all about you. The sunlight filters down through the high branches as through stained glass windows. The trees chant a low sound as choristers in distant galleries. It so affects you that tears start to your eyes. You do not know just how old these stately columns are, but you do know that they were young when the Christ was born in Bethlehem.

Finally, you start the car and on and on you follow the wonderful road which winds in and out among these trees. The builders of the roads spared all trees it was possible to spare; even shaved off the side of the trunks of some to permit traffic to pass. Here is where you do not object to sharp curves—and the road curves for miles and miles. Humans look like pigmies on this road. Even the automobiles approaching you appears as a stray ant. Human life seems of very short duration when it is compared to the lives of these Trees.

It is with profound regret that you pass out of this the most glorious forest in the world, but the memory of it will remain with you forever.

Senator McClure Is Defeated In Delaware County

(International News Service)

MEDIA, Pa., Nov. 4.—Delaware county today had rejected State Senator John J. McClure's bid for re-election.

McClure, Republican "boss" who in 1933 was convicted with more than three score others for conspiracy to break the prohibition laws, lost to Weldon B. Heyburn, Concordville farmer, in a bitterly contested election. The vote: Heyburn, 74,965; McClure, 63,321.

The Democratic victory for the first time in modern history swept Chester, hitherto impregnable stronghold of McClure, which gave Heyburn 11,666 votes to the senator's 10,066.

Total ballots cast by the county in the presidential contest were: Gov. Landon, 74,743; President Roosevelt, 64,959. Adie S. Rush was elected a Democratic state representative over Thomas A. Curran, 11,044 to 10,511.

Coalition Wins In Minnesota

Governor Hjalmar Peterson, Farmer-Labor candidate for a place on the state railroad and warehouse commission, was ahead of his Republican incumbent opponent, Fred W. Matson. Harry H. Peterson, attorney general, also a Farmer-Laborite, appeared certain of re-election.

In the same districts, James H. Hughes of Dover obtained 46,624 votes to 37,474 for U. S. Senator Daniel O. Hastings, Republican incumbent, while Richard C. McMullen (D) of Wilmington polled 44,613 votes for governor against 36,545 reported for Harry Cannon of Bridgeville.

Roll Call Of Red Cross Is Under Way Here

Workers Start Canvass Of Homes And Business District Today

WILL CONCLUDE SATURDAY EVE

Work of enrolling the citizens of New Castle in the annual Roll Call was started today by a group of men and women under the direction of Chairman Joseph R. McFate, and will be concluded on Saturday.

Mrs. Bart Richards is chairman of the women's organization who will visit the various homes of the city and every district will be canvassed.

The business district will be visited by a group of citizens under the direction of Ivor V. Davis.

With a record of achievement unequalled in the history of the organization during the past year, the Chapter has no hesitancy in asking every citizen of the city and county to enroll as members of this national organization devoted to the relief of suffering among mankind, and is confident that the people of the community will give their financial support by subscribing as they have in the past.

Mrs. Marcus Feuchtwanger, who is a member of the executive committee of the Lawrence County Chapter, appeals to the residents of New Castle to support the chapter in their annual drive for members. She says:

"Volunteer workers are the backbone of the Red Cross. There are many in your community, aiding your chapter. They make surgical dressings, layettes and many other articles for the needy. Help to support all Red Cross work by volunteering membership with your chapter. Join now."

COLLEGE CLASS PICKS MIKE AS TREASURER

Mike, who was graduated from New Castle high school with the class of '28, is taking his third year's college work in preparation for an A. B. degree, with social studies and business as his majors. He has been a varsity football man since his freshman year.

Now that grade schools are open once more, we can't help but think that a picture of teacher is most aptly titled, "September Marm".

Urges Hunters To Exercise Caution

Downie Reminds Hunters Of WPA Workers In Wooded Areas

J. Vale Downie, director of district 14, WPA today urged hunters to exercise care in the woods during hunting season. His statement follows.

With the opening of hunting season November 6th, attention is directed to the large number of W. P. A. employees working on projects located in wooded areas, and the danger of them being exposed to gun fire of hunters.

Every possible means is being employed by the W. P. A. Safety Division by posting the locations where men are working and having the men wear bunting to make the project location and the men as conspicuous as possible to the hunters.

However, the important factor is the co-operation of the hunter and we therefore address this appeal to every sportsman in this locality to co-operate in every way possible to minimize the danger of this hazard in our locality.

DOES YOUR HUSBAND CALL YOU GROUCHY?

He's truthful if not tactful. Manlike, he is bewildered by your offishness and irritability. He can't understand what you have to be blue about. He wishes that you'd snap out of it. He'd do anything he could to help you. If he knew how good Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was, he'd go straight to the nearest drug store and buy you a bottle.

Mrs. Barbara Spears

"My husband says I am my old self again," says Mrs. Barbara Spears, 799 Elma Street, Akron, Ohio. "I was tired and all in with no appetite. Had no pep and was in poor spirits. Your Vegetable Compound eliminated that awful tired feeling."

Don't try your husband's patience too far. Get a bottle from your druggist NOW. It probably will help you, because nearly a million American women know from personal experience that it helps them.

REBELS FORCE WAY NEARER TO MADRID

Madrid Suburbs Under Shell Fire

Hope To Prevent Deadly Street Fighting In City Of Madrid

WOULD MEAN BIG CASUALTY LIST

By H. R. KNICKERBOCKER
International News Service Staff Correspondent
(Copyright, 1936, by International News Service)

NAVALCARNERO, Spain, Nov. 4.—White forces today smashed their way through villages on the outskirts of Madrid, and now Gen. Francisco Franco's troops stand along a 25-mile front on an average of 12 miles from the capital.

Lieut. Col. Manuel Castejon galloped his Legionnaires from Brunete to Villaviciosia, while Gen. Juan Asencio, operating from Navalcarnero, took Mostoles, within eyesight of Madrid.

Shell Suburbs.

The whites now occupy a line from Brunete through Villaviciosia, Mostoles, and Fuenlabrada to a point on their right flank.

White artillery is pouring shells on Madrid's suburbs, without any particular target, but to inform the capital's population that the end is near.

It is not yet clear whether Madrid will attempt a life-or death resistance, or surrender when the whites reach outlying streets.

White airplanes received an ominous sign that resistance may be desperate when a terrific blast of anti-aircraft fire met an attempt to fly over the capital.

The whites hope that resistance may cease and street fighting be prevented, because downright warfare in the streets of Madrid would certainly mean tens of thousands of dead.

Big Lead Given Roosevelt By Illinois Voters

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, Nov. 4.—The greatest tidal wave in the history of the state was sweeping Illinois under the banner of President Roosevelt as the last of the tremendous vote in Tuesday's election was counted early today.

A total of 3,450 precincts out of 4,136 in Cook county (Chicago) gave the president a vote of 1,050,368 against 509,953 for Governor Landon.

With half of the down-state counties reported, Roosevelt was leading in that sector, which the Republicans believed they would carry easily, by more than 50,000 indicating that Illinois had gone for the president by possibly one million votes—at least by more than 700,000.

Governor Henry Horner, Democrat incumbent, U. S. Senator James Hamilton Lewis and the entire state and Cook county Democratic tickets rode the wave with the president and appeared winners by pluralities exceeding 400,000.

Congratulations Sent By Col. Knox

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, Nov. 4.—Col. Frank Knox, Republican vice-presidential nominee, early today sent a congratulatory telegram to President Roosevelt after spending many hours in his office listening to the election returns. He wired:

"The American people have clearly indicated their will. I congratulate you on the confidence they have expressed in you."

The only thing some people share with their friends is a cold.

THE PARENT PROBLEM

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

WHEN WIDOWERS REMARRY

When a widow or widower with children marries, some serious problems with the children may arise, and these problems may vary in nature with the ages of the children.

At best it will be hard for the child to adapt himself to the step-parent, and vice versa; and if a new child arrives the difficulties inevitably multiply. Still more trying may the situation be with "your children, my children and our children". Then what if one or both parents had been divorced!

"Dear Mr. Myers: A young widow in our church recently remarried. She has a little girl now four years of age by her former husband. Jean's new father by marriage loves her dearly and is wonderful to her: he does everything he knows to do to keep the little thing happy and contented. But somehow, in spite of all, the child seems to have a sense of insecurity, born, we believe, out of the feeling that her new father has usurped her place in the affections and attention of her mother."

This preacher has hit the vital point. As I wrote him, it may take a long siege of patience and affection by the mother and the step-father to help this little child adjust herself. Naturally the mother, following the death of the true father, lavished excessive affections on this child, now being shared by the new husband. It is important that this child be helped to gain more satisfactions at being with other children and at winning wider approvals.

Heartaches Follow

Consider the heartaches to the adolescent daughter of the widower, and the adolescent son of the widow, when there is remarriage, unless the step-parent before remarriage gradually had won the favor and affection of this youth. And you and I know some instances in which the son or daughter's approval has been wholly won, and when the remarriage proved successful. How I do admire a step-parent who has proved successful, and the other one of the married pair who helped make it a success.

Now I wish I might entreat my fellow parents who are contemplating divorce in order to remarry soon, to give serious thought to what the cost will be to the child or children. For their sake, remarriage might at least be delayed several months.

On Court House Hill

ON COURT HOUSE HILL

County Controller Frank W. Hill reports that expenditures from the general fund during the month of October amounted to $38,817.37 and from the poor fund $11,331.75, or a grand total of $50,149.12.

Expenditures from the poor fund were as follows: repairs and equipment, county home, $70.34; provisions for county home, $497.14; maintenance of county home, including salaries, light, heat and clothing, $729.81; physicians and dentists, $115.

Total, $11,331.75.

In the matter of the expenses of administering the mothers' assistance fund, it is claimed that the reason more help is being put on for the investigation of old age pension cases is that the members of the board are not allowed to do the investigating under a ruling of the department at Harrisburg. Formerly the members of the board did all the investigating, and did it for nothing. It is claimed that with a paid force the work can be done faster and more people will get pensions. The county commissioners appropriated $2,500 for the expenses of the office and say that they will pay no more, so that it will be up to the state department to pay for the additional help.

County Treasurer Joseph Hartland and assistants are very busy issuing hunting licenses, owing to the near approach of the opening of the hunting season. Indications are that the number of licenses will be about the same as last year. Printed instructions tell the hunters how to avoid shooting each other for rabbits.

Owing to the great interest in the elections, returns came in much better today than usual. Along with the returns the judges brought in the unused ballots and election supplies. The ballots, after they are counted, are put back in the ballot boxes, which are left in the custody of the justices of the peace.

Victory Demonstration At President's Home

(International News Service)

HYDE PARK, N. Y., Nov. 4.—Inhaling clouds of smoke from red and white flares, and enjoying the situation hugely, President Roosevelt, late Tuesday evening stood on the front steps of his family home and greeted a large "victory" demonstration staged by his neighbors.

"The returns aren't all in, and by no means complete," he told his cheering fellow townsmen, "but it looks as if we are going to have one of the largest sweeps in the history of the United States.

"It seems to have gone into every single section of the country—not only the south, but the west, the Pacific coast, the central states and New England.

"I thank you very much for this demonstration. I hope in the next four years, with the worst of the emergency over, I can spend more time in Hyde Park."

Automobile after automobile poured into the driveway of the Roosevelt home as it became apparent he had been re-elected by another landslide. The cars were parked all over the expanse of ground leading up to the house.

Mr. Roosevelt appeared with his wife, mother, sons and daughter.

Ohio Carried By Democrats

President's Vote Is Greatly Increased Over Vote Given In 1932

(International News Service)

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 4.—Carrying with him the entire Democratic state ticket with the exception of one supreme court candidate President Roosevelt's Ohio plurality over Gov. Alfred M. Landon today swelled past the 250,000 mark.

Polling 819,824 votes in 4603 of 8600 precincts, the president's majority dwarfed his lead over Hoover in Ohio in 1932 when he won by only 74,000. Latest returns gave Roosevelt (D) 819, 824, Landon (R) 568,007, or a majority of 251,817.

Gov. Martin L. Davey (D) once a severe critic of the president's relief policies, himself rode to re-election on the Roosevelt landslide. The 4603 precincts gave Davey 753,688 to 669,576 for John W. Bricker, Republican. Davey's majority two years ago was only 65,000.

Democrats Gain Control Of Both State Branches

Will Have Majority In House And Senate Both Is Outlook From Tuesday

NO SOCIALISTS ARE ELECTED

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Nov. 4.—Democratic control of both branches of the General Assembly for the first time in the history of Pennsylvania Republicanism was assured today.

Incomplete tabulations gave the Democrats at least 14 seats in the senate and considerably more than the constitutional majority of 105 in the house of representatives. The 14 Democratic senators swept into office will swell to at least 28 that party's voting strength in the upper branch of the Pennsylvania General Assembly.

Democratic candidates for the senate were leading in scattered returns from their districts which, if they hold up, will further swell the party's lead.

Seven Republicans

Only seven Republican senators were assured of election. The terms of nine other Republican senators did not expire.

On the house side of the legislature no less than 137 were elected, and this number will probably be increased by later returns election boards were late in completing the tabulations for minor candidates.

The Democrats gained twenty-two house members in the sweep of Philadelphia. The delegation of 41 for the 1937 session will consist of 36 Democrats and five Republicans. Two years ago the delegation consisted of 27 Republicans and fourteen Democrats.

Democrats in Luzerne county made a clean sweep of the legislative posts, electing all eight members, a gain of seven over the county's delegation in the 1935 session.

Solidly Democratic

The Allegheny county delegation will be solidly Democratic. Two years ago only one Republican was elected out of 27.

For the first time in years the first district of Dauphin county, comprising the City of Harrisburg, will be represented by Democrats. The two Republicans in the county district were reelected by narrow margins.

One Democrat was elected in Delaware and Montgomery counties. For years the delegations from these two counties have been solidly Republican.

No Socialists

The Democratic bloc from Philadelphia also has been increased. Only 9 Republicans out of a delegation of 41 appeared sure of election with returns missing from several of the legislative districts.

The Republican delegation in the House for the 1937 session may consist of fewer than fifty members, as compared with 89 a year ago.

For the first session since 1931 there will be no socialist members. The Roosevelt landslide in Berks county defeated Representative Darlington Hoopes and miles N. Williams, Socialist nominees from the first Berks district. Democrats were elected in their stead.

LATE FIGURES INCREASE LEAD FOR ROOSEVELT

ried through to the polling places, according to all indications.

Four years ago, Mr. Roosevelt's popular plurality was slightly more than 7,000,000, and there were few politicians who had anticipated that he would equal the mark this year. He not only equalled it, but exceeded it. And Gov. Landon shares with the late Wm. Howard Taft the dubious distinction of being the worst beaten major candidate in history. Taft had 8 electoral votes in 1912 (Vermont and Utah.) Gov. Landon had 8 electoral votes today (Maine and Vermont).

Many Ride Along

So sweeping was the Roosevelt tide that Democratic candidates for governor, senator and representative, whose chances for election had seemed slim, rode into power with him.

The Democrats appeared today to have made a net gain of four seats in the United States senate, and have actually increased their already top-heavy majority in the house of representatives.

In 34 gubernatorial contests, Democratic candidates appeared to have definitely won 29, with Republicans clinging to scanty leads in five others.

These results, national and state, insure control of the federal and state governments in this country by one party (the Democrats) such as has never before been witnessed.

There was no sectional or geographic tinge to the Democratic sweep. It simply started from the coast line of Massachusetts and went through to the Pacific coast, taking in every state from the Canadian border to the Gulf of Mexico.

Bowing to the inevitable, Gov. Landon, who fought a gallant, uphill struggle, conceded Mr. Roosevelt's election this morning and sent the president this telegram:

"Nation Has Spoken"

"The nation has spoken. Every American will accept the verdict and work for the common cause for the good of our country. That is the spirit of democracy. You have my sincere congratulations."

To this, Mr. Roosevelt replied:

"I am grateful to you for your generous telegram and I am confident that all of us Americans will now pull together for the common good. I send you every good wish."

To these amenities, James A. Farley, the Democratic campaign manager, added a plea for forgetfulness of all the campaign's bitterness and recrimination. "Big Jim" has some bitterness of his own at some of the things that were said of him, but in the sweet flush of victory today he was inclined to follow his own advice and "forget it".

The tidal sweep of the New Deal moved over all obstacles, whether Jeffersonial Democrats or the Lemke-Coughlin combination's third (Union) party threat. In no place did the Union party vote figure importantly, despite the hectic campaigning of Congressman Lemke, a dnthe bombastic assaults of Father Coughlin.

As for the opposition of Al Smith, the Roosevelt margin of victory was greatest where the erstwhile "happy warrior" had campaigned—in his own New, which Mr. Roosevelt had carried by approximately a million votes; in Chicago, where he polled a record-breaking plurality; and in Pennsylvania, which cast its electoral vote for a Democrat for the first time in almost a century. The appeal of another defeated candidate for the presidency, John W. Davis, was equally ineffective, it appeared.

Democrats Amazed.

The Democrats were amazed at the magnitude of their own victory.

While they had confidently anticipated winning in the electoral college, most of them feared it might be rather close, and none of them had looked for a popular victory of such proportions. Experienced and non-partisan observers were surprised by that as well.

Save in the upper tier of New England, there was nothing sectional or localized about the New Deal's victory. It encompassed the southern tier of New England, taking in Massachusetts, Rhode Island and Connecticut, moved down the Atlantic seaboard, turned westward through New York and Pennsylvania and then made a clean sweep of the country between the Canadian border and the Gulf of Mexico.

Agricultural or industrial, the states all went the same, and by figures that permitted no misinterpretation.

The first faint indications of what was to come appeared in the early returns from the small towns of New Hampshire and Massachusetts early yesterday. Long before the rest of the country had even started voting, some of these towns had completed their vote and made the results public. They disclosed that instead of revealing Democratic weakness in these traditionally Republican places they disclosed increased Democratic strength. They showed Mr. Roosevelt increasing his vote of four years ago, while Gov. Landon was increasing but slightly or barely holding to the Hoover vote of 1932.

Trend Continues.

Thereafter the trend continued, and it had become a virtual rout before New York stopped voting. Due to the greatly increased registration New York polls were kept open until 9 p. m. and by that hour the result was already suspected, and, a little later, assured.

The whole theory of Republican success was predicated upon taking all the New England states, plus New York, New Jersey and Pennsylvania, and then making a clean sweep through Ohio, Indiana, Michigan, Illinois and the rich agricultural region that lies between the Mississippi and the Rockies.

Connecticut was the first to fall. Hoover carried Connecticut four years ago by 7,000, it being one of the six states he did carry, and the Republicans were supremely confident of the state. Canny J. Henry Roraback, the veteran Republican "boss" of Connecticut, conceded it while New York was still going to the polls.

Then, like a house of cards, the whole Republican structure, erected by dint of so much effort and expenditure of so much money, fell apart. State after state fell into the Democratic column. The Republican campaign had been built on a plan, which worked out in exact reverse.

Nowhere did the Landon vote come up to Republican hopes and expectations, and almost everywhere the Roosevelt vote far exceeded them.

President Roosevelt carried every principal large city in the country. And yet it was no city victory over the rural sections, for they, too, went overwhelmingly Democratic.

The greatly increased registration —15,000,000 more than voted in 1932 —which puzzled the politicians mightily, turned out to be new voters and hitherto non-voters who came out to endorse the New Deal, and not to protest against it as the Republicans had hoped and believed.

Just where this political holocaust leaves the Republican party of the future is something that will be debated at great length in the months to come. For the moment the Republicans are dazed, bewildered—and leaderless. In view of the overwhelming character of his defeat, the worst beaten major candidate since Taft carried only Vermont and Utah in 1912, Gov. Landon is in no position to exert his titular leadership. The only certainty about the Republican future is its uncertainty.

Warren Woman Hurt In Crash

Is Hurled Through Windshield As Tire Blows Out And Car Hits Culvert

Mrs. Pauline Hunter, aged 21, wife of William Hunter, of R. F. D. No. 2, Warren, O., suffered lacerations of the face, neck and right knee, when she was hurled through the windshield as her husband's car hurtled from the road and struck a culvert, two miles west of New Castle on Route 422, at 8:15 last evening.

The crash is said to have resulted when one of the front tires blew out, causing Mr. Hunter to lose control of the car.

Mrs. Hunter is undergoing treatment in the Jameson Memorial hospital, where she was brought by Constable Frank Conner, of the Second Ward.

Mr. Hunter, and Mr. and Mrs. George Orris, of Warren, O., other occupants of the car, were discharged from the hospital after treatment. It was stated this morning that Mrs. Hunter's condition was just fair.

Advance Gifts Division Is Being Formed

Between 25 and 30 of the city's prominent citizens gathered for a luncheon conference in The Castle today to organize the advanced gifts division of the city-wide Community Chest campaign which opens Tuesday, Nov. 17.

The dinner today was the second group rally to be held to chart plans for the approaching drive. Recently the larger employed group division organized its plans.

W. Keith McAfee, president of the Chest board of directors and chairman of the 1936 campaign's executive committee, will lead the advanced gifts workers in the drive.

Mr. McAfee presided at the noon session and outlined plans for the united solicitation for $60,370 for eight social and welfare agencies of New Castle. Clyde M. Whittaker, who will be vice chairman of the division, was introduced.

Activity of the advanced gifts group commenced with today's first meeting and, it was announced, will continue up until the day the drive opens.

Prospect selections were also made by the citizen's group at today's meeting.

David S. Pyle, retired head of the Carnegie-Illinois Steel corporation plants here, is general chairman of the coming campaign.

SENATE GAIN OF FOUR SEATS MADE BY DEMOCRATS

while two Farmer-Laborites shared the long and short terms for the same seat.

Five Republican stalwarts were swept into the discard in the Roosevelt landslide. They were Hasting in Delaware, Dickinson in Iowa, Barbour in New Jersey, Metcalf in Rhode Island and Carey in Wyoming.

Three young Republicans appeared to have won seats. They were young Henry Cabot Lodge, Jr., in Massachusetts, young Governor H. Styles Bridges in New Hampshire and the newcomer, Chandler Gurney, in South Dakota.

Borah And Capper Re-Elected

Three Republicans were re-elected. They were the veteran Senator William E. Borah in Idaho, the Republican leader Senator Charles L. McNary in Oregon and the veteran Senator Arthur Capper in Kansas. Borah and McNary waged their campaign for re-election without aiding the national candidacy of Governor Alfred M. Landon.

Only one seated Democrat appeared to have been whipped. He was the veteran W. J. Bulow, of South Dakota, apparently headed off by Gurney.

Fifteen incumbent Democrats won re-election. This list was topped by Senator Joe T. Robinson, the Democratic floor leader, in Arkansas, Senator Pat Harrison, chairman of the senate finance committee, Senator James F. Byrnes, in South Carolina, the president's spokesman on many matters, and Senator James Hamilton Lewis, in Illinois.

Eighteen New Faces

In all, there will be eighteen new faces in the senate when it convenes January 3. This includes new senators replacing eight who did not seek reelection, two who were whipped in primaries, one who died and six defeated yesterday at the polls.

There were many spectacular races. Out in Nebraska, Senator George W. Norris, after abandoning his Republican affiliation, appeared to have won, running as an Independent. In Idaho, Borah won handsomely although his state swung into the Roosevelt landslide. McNary accomplished the same feat.

In Massachusetts, young Lodge, a grandson of his famous forebear of the same name, whipped Governor James M. Curley who sought the toga laid down by Senator Marcus Coolidge. Lodge won although the Bay State went to Roosevelt.

Veterans Win

Out in Kansas, the veteran Capper eked out a victory although the sunflower state apparently abandoned its own favorite son, Landon. In Iowa, where Dickinson fell, the Democrats elected two new senators —one to replace the late Senator Louis Murphy. In New Mexico, two incumbent Democrats—Hatch and Chavez—both won.

Throughout the south, the Democrats had an easy time. The veteran Senator Carter Glass won easily in Virginia. So did the veteran Morris Sheppard in Texas, Bailey in North Carolina, Logan in Kentucky and Neely in West Virginia.

Another spectacular battle was staged in Michigan, where Prentiss M. Brown won the senatorial toga of the late James Couzens from former Governor Wilbur M. Brucker. Brucker whipped Couzens in the Republican primary, after the latter endorsed Roosevelt.

In the north and across the nation, senatorial contests appeared to be of secondary consideration to the electorate. The great Roosevelt vote simply carried one Democrat after another into office.

Of the two other GOP senate leaders, Sen. William H. Clark, Chester Republican, convicted of extortion a year ago, did not seek reelection. George B. Sscarlett Republican who ran for his place, was successful. Sen. G. Mason Owlett, Tioga, Republican national committeeman, also beat down his Democratic opponent.

On the basis of virtually complete returns President Roosevelt had carried 44 of the 67 counties, as against only 26 he won in 1932. Governor Earle took 35 in 1934.

Becker Case Is Given To Jury At Brookville

Becker Maintains That Confession In Case Was Obtained By Force

FOUR POSSIBLE VERDICTS IN CASE

(International News Service)

BROOKVILLE, Pa., Nov. 4.—The fate of John Becker, 37, accused of the brutal slaying of Miss Katherine Bracken, 42, a railroad signal tower telegrapher, was placed in the hands of a jury of 12 men shortly after 11 o'clock today.

Judge Jesse Long told the jurors there were four possible verdicts. Murder in the first degree with the death penalty; murder in the first degree with life imprisonment; second degree murder and acquittal.

Maintains Innocence

To the last, Becker maintained that two statements in which he was alleged to have admitted killing the woman because she refused his advances were obtained by force.

Concluding arguments of opposing counsel were finished at a special court session last night and Judge Long delivered his lengthy charge this morning.

Miss Bracken was beaten unconscious with a heavy inkstand and then hurled over an embankment near the lonely Pittsburgh and Shawmut railroad tower where she was employed after her throat was slashed. An attempted assault also took place, the commonwealth charged.

In addition to the confession and a supplementary statement, the commonwealth presented testimony that bloodstains found on Becker's clothes and pocket knife corresponded with those of Miss Becker's blood.

Deadlock In Ship Strike

(International News Service)

A deadlocked siege between labor and management in the strike of approximately 50,000 seamen and maritime workers was foreseen today as strike leaders estimated that more than 300 ships have been rendered idle by actual walk-outs and left-wing "sit down" strikes that have spread from the Pacific coast, along the gulf ports, into the harbor cities of the Atlantic seaboard.

Reports were heard, meanwhile, that federal efforts to effect a truce —thus far unsuccessful—might take a new tack in the form of governmental pressure upon operators whose ships are partly subsidized by the government to accept a compromise settlement of the west coast dispute.

Despite these reports, west coast shipowners evinced determination to protect their property. With union workers now engaged in moving perishables from idle vessels, shippers served notice that non-union safety crews would be hired to avert fire hazard and property destruction if the unions refuse to furnish such crews from their low ranks.

Paden Chosen As Kiwanis Leader

Student Actors At Senior High Will Perform

To Present "Seven Chances" At School Auditorium On November 13

The student-actors at the senior high school are to open their season this year on Friday, November 13, with a public performance of a three-act comedy, "Seven Chances" by Roi Cooper Megrue. This play was successfully produced some years ago for metropolitan audiences at the George Cohan Theatre in New York City. Miss Clara Hartsuff, the dramatics coach, and her cast are now busy with their final rehearsals and predict a performance equal to the usual high standard of the local school.

[illegible] is particularly adapted to student production. It has a large cast of young characters, and [illegible] only a little less young; a plot that calls for swift action, spicy [illegible] of [illegible] humor. The cast is enjoying itself in [illegible] audience will reap the harvest of laughter that is being joyously cultivated.

Mr. Orth, principal of the high school, has announced that the proceeds are to go toward clearing off the school debt for stage curtains and equipment, paid for in part by the June class of last year. The whole school has been enjoying these lovely back-drop and side curtains of soft taupe-gray which were hung at that time. They are used for all assembly programs. Faculty and students are working to make the play a success financially that it is sure to be from the standpoint of dramatics.

Gloomy Outlook For New Castle High Gridders

Martins Ferry Set For Big Victory Over "Red Hurricane" Saturday

THE gloom around the practice field at Taggart Stadium is an inch thick this week, as New Castle's vaunted "Red Hurricans" prepares for the invasion of Martins Ferry on this coming Saturday.

So thick is the gloom in fact that one can cut it with a knife. There is plenty of cause for the sad outlook as one glances over at the bench and finds such players as Mumford, Albert and Perrett ailing with injuries that may keep them out of the lineup the rest of the year.

Last for DeCaprio

Another thing that doesn't cause the spirits to rise very high either is the fact that Domenick "Gabby" Decaprio, the big husky Italian boy is to play his final game for New Castle on Saturday. DeCaprio will reach his 20th birthday next week. This is another unfortunate "bad Break" for the locals, as he could be of no little service in the coming game with Sharon high and with Midland.

The backfield situation is very much in the "air" for Saturday. Paul Small will no doubt be back at the signal barking post, where he performed so nobly last week in his baptismal in his first big league game. At the one half will be Charley "Stormy" Mort, the bundle of dynamite, and at the other half will probably be Leroy Cox the colored speedster who has had bad ankles all year and is considerably bothered by the injuries. The fullback will be DeCaprio with Sovesky and Kominic almost sure to see a lot of action.

Stop Bennett

How to stop Johnny Bennett is the big question at hand? This chap is just about the whole "Ferry" backfield, and if the locals can bottle him up a whole lot of the offensive strength of the "Purple Riders" will be stopped. In fact Bennett is the "Goldberg" of the Martins Ferry team and is a triple threat man of the first water.

"Gloomy Phil" Bridenbaugh is not smiling this week, and when the football teacher wears a frown, it is because he realizes that his boys are in for a licking.

Fight Is Needed

There is just one thing that may carry the New Castle boys through, and that is "Fight" and lots of it. Martins Ferry has won six straight games. They are harboring a desire for an unbeaten season. They don't intend to let the "Red Hurricane" spoil the record. They will fight to the last ditch.

From where we sit the game looks like the classic of the year. Surely Eastern Ohio is excited over the prospects of the game and Western Pennsylvania is equally as interested. A lot of prestige depends on the battle about to be enacted on the Ohio field. There will be a goodly crowd on hand to watch the enactment.

Special Train To Leave At 9:45 A. M.

Will Arrive In Martins Ferry At 12:30 P. M., According To Plans

The New Castle high school football special train over the Pennsylvania lines to Martins Ferry will leave New Castle from the West Side station at 9:45 a. m., Saturday morning according to present plans announced by C. J. Callahan of the railroad and high school officials today.

The schedule calls for the New Castle special to pull into Martins Ferry at 12:30 o'clock. This will give the fans about an hour and half to get to the game which will start at 2 o'clock.

Tickets for the special train are selling for $1.65 per round trip. The tickets are available at the Sporting Goods Store, the Carnegie-Illinois Steel Mill, the Senior high school and the West Side ticket office.

Indications point to a big crowd of New Castle students and fans accompanying the "Red Hurricane" on the train. The New Castle high band will also make the trip to Martins Ferry, Joe Replogle will do the directing.

Yarosz-Overlin Battle Tonight

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 4.—Teddy Yarosz of Monaca, ex-middleweight champ, stakes his future in the fistic game tonight on the outcome of his bout here tonight with Ken Overlin, one of the cleverest and fastest lads in the 160-pound division.

Handle End Jobs Nicely

JOE JOSEPH - END

CHAS. JACKSON - END

Pictured above is the two varsity ends on the Martins Ferry High football team. Both boys are veterans of several years and played here in New Castle last year with the "Purple Riders". The reports this year say that the end jobs at Martins Ferry are well taken care of. They are planning to stop New Castle fast running Charley Mort and Leroy Cox in the game on this coming Saturday. It is likely that Bridenbaugh will start Nocera and Covelli against the "Ferries".

The Farrell Kramers would like to book a football game for Sunday in New Castle with a fast eleven, according to an announcement by Mickey Zurinda, 333 Spearman street, Farrell, Pa.

"Red" Ciccone Visiting Here

Cleveland Professional Football Star Adept At Smearing Passes

Benjamin "Red" Ciccone, star member of the Cleveland professional football team, is visiting at his home, Scioto street, for a few days.

Ciccone, who gained quite a name for himself as a member of Duquesne university under Elmer Layden and later with the Pittsburgh pros, is a popular personality in Cleveland. In every game the Rams have played, Ciccone has managed to smear at least two passes. He and Gomer Jones, last season standout with Ohio State, are battling for the center berth. Because of his previous experience in pro football, Ciccone is considered a much better center than Jones. Merle McIntosh, another local gridder, saw action with the Cleveland club last Sunday against the Pittsburgh Americans. Reports have it that "Mac" looked good.

Privilege led to a finish by a head Tuesday in the mile and sixteenth Pimlico Futurity but the stewards ruled him out on a foul and the stake went to Matey, a fast closing second at the wire. Privilege's rider, Eddie Arcaro, was alleged to have interfered with Matey and second place went to Brooklyn.

Junior Varsity To Play Butler

Coach "Bill" Klee and his New Castle High Junior varsity football team will play at Butler on Thursday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock, it was announced by Faculty Manager Ralph H. Gardner today.

The Junior varsity tied Mercer High last week at Taggart Field in a tough battle. The Kleemen hope to trade Dizzy Dean to anybody at any time within these six months, or the next. To me, their public announcement that the Dean is on the market was done less for its effect upon the league than it was upon the player. Frankly, I think it's a premeditated attempt to stand off the "bite" when the salary thing comes up and the league must think so, too.

Anyhow, it seems significant that nobody has publicly offered to take this half-million dollar incubus off the Cardinals' hands.

Giants Want Dean

Yet only a day or so ago I read an outburst here to the effect that the Giants most certainly were to acquire Dean before the opening of the 1937 season and, moreover, would do so without sacrificing Carl Hubbell. In fewer words, the intimation was that they were going to buy the Dean, it being explained (A) that the Cards were tired of paying the man's salary and (B) that the league recognized that it needed his sucker-appeal in New York. The latter sounds like the juice of two lemons squeezed into a half-tumbler of straight hair groom.

Davis J. Walsh Does Not Believe That St. Louis Will Part With Dean

By DAVIS J. WALSH

NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—Without knowing the slightest thing about it, except for a few arresting utterances I happened upon in the paper, it is the writer's studied opinion that the St. Louis Cardinals have neither the intention nor the desire to trade Dizzy Dean to anybody at any time within these six months, or the next. To me, their public announcement that the Dean is on the market was done less for its effect upon the league than it was upon the player. Frankly, I think it's a premeditated attempt to stand off the "bite" when the salary thing comes up and the league must think so, too.

TALES IN TIDBITS

By BILL BRAUCHER
Central Press Sports Editor

The year's great football story, of course, is the defeat of Minnesota by Northwestern.

And I think that the outstanding feature of that game is the fact that it was an All-American football player who lost the game for the Golden Gophers.

In the last period of the game when Minnesota was penalized from the 15-yard line to the one-yard line "for unnecessary roughness", the Wildcats got the break they needed to score. To thousands of observers it seemed a cruel and unusual twist of fortune against the Northmen.

One-Two Punch.

But the men down on the field all know that Minnesota had it comnig. The reason for exacting the penalty in that crucial instance was slugging on the part of Ed Widseth, 220-pound Gopher tackle, who was named last year on everybody's All-American.

Referee John Ketchell called the penalty on Widseth, who is a Sunday school teacher in his spare time, for letting go his best one-two Saturday afternoon punch, said smack landing flush on the features of Don Geyer, big Northwestern fullback.

The dispatches covering that part of the afternoon's activities merely stated: "The penalty was called because Widseth struck Geyer in the face twice after the whistle blew."

The moral seems to be: "When the whistle is blown, please stop hitting people in the face."

Savoldi Adds Advice

We don't often get the real stories of what goes on down there on the field. Now and then there is a penalty such as that meted out to Minnesota, and the facts just have to come out. But how many punches go unpenalized?

Joe Savoldi, former Notre Dame fullback who went in for rassling after leaving school, once gave this writer some interesting testimony in this regard. The writer asked Joe if the rassling business (in which modified mayhem is committed offhand) wasn't a pretty tough trade. Suffering body slams, flying tackles, falling on concrete floors, being draped over ringside chairs, being butted and having one's limbs twisted into pretzels—that's all a part of the rassling business nowadays, you know.

Joe's reply may or may not surprise you. Said Joe, "After college football, rassling is a vacation."

Thanks for the Ride!

Maybe that's why so many college footballers go in for rassling. After trading punches with a Minnesota lineman for an afternoon, the ambitious young graduate may that being tossed from the arena into seats 1 and 2, row B, in the gallery is just a joyride.

But, a last word to our young men in the colleges: Boys, boys! please don't punch after the whistle is blown!

Shenango-Union Grid Game Friday

Schoolboys Primed For Annual Tussle; Starting Time Is 2:15 O'clock

The Class B football spotlight will be shifted to Shenango field, Friday afternoon, where Union township high and Shenango high meet in their annual tussle. The kickoff is slated for 2:15 o'clock. The East New Castle school is making preparations to accommodate the largest crowd of the season as the two rivals lineup.

The schoolboys, according to the coaches, are primed for the perennial battle which is expected to be packed with thrills from start to finish. Shenango will present a much stronger outfit than last year while Union has a cagey aggregation that plays a snappy brand of ball. While the Bessemer eleven is still feasting as a result of winning the Lawrence county Class B laurels, Union and Shenango will be battling for the second place berth. Hoskins will referee, Richards will umpire and Waddington will be headlinesman, it was announced today.

Report Three Auto Collisions Here

William Davies, 1029 Adams street, reported to police at 10:15 p. m. Tuesday he was driving an automobile east on Grant street and the car ran into the P. R. gates. Both gates were broken.

Charles A. Jones, 418 Wabana street, Pittsburgh, told police at 2:15 p. m. yesterday, he parked his auto at 718 Court street and a Deniston Bros. truck collided his Jones car, the latter reported.

Dear J. P.

Well the election is come and gone. Right at this moment we are getting the election returns. They are coming in fairly fast but I am taking a few minutes off to write you a little note. Just read the New Yorker and this ad came to my attention "In either case . . . keep kool". That is very good advice. After all we still are all citizens of this United States. The returns keep coming in .....

The dots denote, Time never re-Pete's.

Well it is now 3 o'clock in the morning and we still have the same President. Let's all join the same league and make these next 4 years happy.

Don't forget that now is the time to use the want-ad page. It will give you all the pleasures at one time. Hoping I will hear from you soon.

Your most humble servant,
QUALITY PETE.

Washington Goes To Roosevelt By Lead Of 2 To 1

(International News Service)

SEATTLE, Nov. 4. — President Roosevelt held to a better than 2 to 1 lead in Washington's general election today as upstate returns bore out early Seattle and Tacoma trends.

His lead over Gov. Alf M. Landon, 154,636 to 75,749 in 945 precincts far exceeded his percentage in his 1932 victory over Herbert Hoover.

Gov. Clarence D. Martin (D) held an even stronger lead for reelection over former Gov. Kroland H. Hartley, 147,466 to 67,703.

Market Moves Irregularly Higher As Result Of Roosevelt's Apparent Landslide

By LESLIE GOULD
International News Service
Financial Writer

NEW YORK, Nov. 4—The stock market moved irregularly higher today in response to President Roosevelt's sweeping re-election, trading slowing down after an active start.

Sharp gains in metal and mining shares featured the list, but this was partially offset by extreme weakness in utility stocks.

Heavy buying at the opening, in conjunction with liquidation of power shares, sent the ticker behind momentarily. Blocks ran to 10,000 shares in Commonwealth & Southern. Soon after, however, profit-taking made its appearance and the market turned quiet.

Virtually all copper issues surged into new high ground for the year. Kennecott, Anaconda and American Smelting each were up close to two points at one time.

Cero De Pasco hit a new peak on a runup of more than three points to feature mining shares. U. S. Smelting climbed two and the low-priced Alaska Juneau rose more than a point.

Meanwhile, utilities sustained losses running to two points. Public Service of New Jersey was the hardest hit, with Consolidated Edison, American Water Works and North American close behind. Commonwealth & Southern slipped a large fraction to 3¼.

Key groups, including rails, motors and steels, were generally quiet and mixed. Price changes were of fractional proportions.

Sugars were helped by the sharp rise in future prices.

Bonds also turned irregularly higher. Cotton soared $1.50 a bale in active dealings. Gains in wheat and corn were fractional.

Democrats Sweep Ellwood City

Carry 8 Out Of 9 Precincts Overwhelmingly In All Offices Here

RECORD VOTE CAST THROUGHOUT CITY

ELLWOOD CITY, Nov. 4—For the first time in its history Ellwood City went Democratic. Being a Republican stronghold for years, the result was not only surprising but amazing. Also the largest vote in the city's history was cast when nearly 5,000 voters trudged to the polls unmindful of an all-day rain.

The Democrats swept every office here, carrying eight out of nine precincts in an overwhelming fashion, and in the totals carried all five wards of the city easily. Only the first precinct of the third ward remained in the Republican column, carrying the candidate in each office by a slight majority. But the second precinct was decidedly Democrat and thus gave the ward to them.

President Roosevelt won nearly 2 to 1 over Gov. Landon, polling 3,221 to 1,644 votes. The Democratic majority for the remaining offices was consistent and slightly less than President Roosevelt's advantage. The straight Democratic votes cast in the city were more than doubled over the Republicans—the figure being 2,897 to 1,443. How the city voted, with the exception of the second precinct of the second ward, which is in Beaver county, will be shown in a chart appearing elsewhere in this issue. The vote in this precinct was unusual in that only straight ballots were cast—327 Democrats and 49 Republicans.

Despite an all-day drizzle here every ward reports a record vote to make it the largest in the city's history—the total being 4,997.

Willing Workers At Newton Home

ELLWOOD CITY, Nov. 4—Ten members of the Willing Workers class of the Wurtemburg U. P. church gathered last evening at the home of Mrs. Ralph Newton in Wurtemburg for the regular November meeting. Mrs. Thomas Riney and Mrs. Hutchinson Newton of Wurtemburg were special guests.

Mrs. Newton conducted the devotional period and during the business meeting plans were formulated for future activities.

The games and contests were in charge of Mrs. Clifford Gibbons and the award went to Mrs. Elmer McMunn. The hostess, who had Miss Ruth Badger and Mrs. Francis Kirk as aides, served tasty refreshments.

The next meeting will take place on Tuesday evening, December 1, at the home of Mrs. J. E. Caughey in Wurtemburg and will be the annual Christmas party.

Card Party Held By Local P. H. C.

ELLWOOD CITY, Nov. 4. — A fine card party was held by the local P. H. C. in the First National Bank building Tuesday evening at which there was a good turnout present.

A short business meeting was first held followed by the serving of tea at seven tables with a hostess for each doing the pouring. Bingo and 500 were then enjoyed during the evening. Prizes for the latter went to Carl Shirley, William Brant for the men and Mrs. Pearl Daugherty and Mrs. Beulah Stasick for the ladies. Mrs. J. D. Jones and Mrs. Ida Duncan won in bingo.

Out-of-town guests present on the occasion were Mrs. and Mrs. William Herman, Gus Berwin, and Ivan Ishman of Sharon. In two weeks the Juniors will hold a tureen dinner at 6 o'clock to which the Seniors have been invited.

Evangelistic Services Are Well Attended

Two Week Union Evangelistic Services Of Two Local Churches Attract Many

ELLWOOD CITY, Nov. 4.—The second week of the union evangelistic services of the Providence Baptist church and North Sewickley Presbyterian church has continued to be successful as large crowds attend the evening services daily.

Despite the election and weather last evening there was a good turnout at the services in the Providence Baptist church. The speaker of the evening was the Rev. C. Hayworth, pastor of the Harmony Baptist church, whose subject was "The Impotent Man Who Was Saved By the Saviour." Miss Vesta Householder sang a prayer solo as did D. S. Williams, the song leader of the evening.

The union choir sang several numbers during the evening with Mrs. Faith Smith at the piano. Tonight there will be a song service by the combined choir and the guest speaker will be the Rev. J. Abbott of the Concord M. E. church. There will be special musical numbers. These meetings are open to the public.

Grid coaches once were divided between those who taught the Rockne system and those who adhered to the Warner style of play. Now they are divided into two schools: those who start the season remarking: "We're sunk", and those who open the schedule with "Boys, we haven't a chance."

NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—Election day here is usually a little sad. This may be because the saloons are closed or it may be a mass conscious of shame over the motives that are causing the little levers to go down.

They stream into public schools and barber shops, bookstores and delicatessens to exercise the illusion of Independent Choice. They are, seen as a whole, dreamless and fetid sheep, moving toward the brief moment in which they can chip their minuscule mica-flakes of Power from the Will of the Mob.

Pride? The fierce grim raesoned selectivity of the early New England villagers choosing village fathers to lead them for another year against a wilderness? Selfless decision, uninfluenced by hope of private, piddling plunder in the form of handouts? Pure patriotism—that thinks only in terms of the long years ahead and the dangers they may bring to Liberty, a word so mystically beautiful that men are perhaps unworthy of its coinage?

You see, or think you see, few of these things. And yet this vast, lumbering electorate, capable of appalling errors and slow to see thru the shallowest rabble-rousers; fickle, absurd, quick to envy and slow to full-blooded righteous wrath; a push-over for schemes which would have made Ponzi or Wallingford laugh—this elephantine Will remains the best, the only form of rational government so far devised.

It is easy to watch the lines before the voting booth and grow heavy-hearted about the future of America. It is too easy. No matter what the result is in any election, that same clumsy giant, the electorate, has a habit of reversing its pig-headed choices at long last, and with such a thundering vehmence that the damage is quickly repaired.

Only when you imagine the alternatives do you grow really appalled. Only when you think of voting booths closed and the whimsical Gulliver of the Franchise pinioned and cowed by little Ogpus brandishing machine guns do you wonder how you ever doubted Gulliver. Then he seems pretty wise and pretty grand. Then you can watch his puckish descent upon the polling place, on a spree perhaps this one time and eyes dazzled by every stick of red-striped candy and explosive cigar proffered him, with a tender understanding.

You know that he is, all things considered, the best friend you have in the world. The red-striped candy will give him a stomach-ache and the cigar will go off in his mouth with a loud disillusioning bang.

When that happens his little eyes will grow red and magnificently malevolent. He will lose his temper and, true to an up-and-down record which yet averages nearly a straight line, he will send the Lilliputians who have beguiled and cajoled and flattered and tricked him flying in every direction. And do his duty with a thrilling firmness and incorruptible decision.

Temperance Rally At Mt. Jackson

There will be a temperance rally at the Mt. Jackson high school Friday evening at 7:30, sponsored by the Lawrence County Sabbath School association and the Mt. Jackson district of which Rev. George Neill is temperance superintendent.

There will be a program of special music and the purpose of the rally is two-fold. First, a demonstration will be given by Miss Anna Perry, a principal of the New Castle school, showing just how temperance should be taught in the Sunday school.

The second purpose of the rally is to formulate some definite plan for eliminating the sale of liquor from townships and to place the question on the ballot at a future time. At the election just over there were 31 counties that voted on it in one or more boros or townships. The speaker will be Attorney Robert L. Wallace.
